U. S. Opens Fire On Meyers Deals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Justice Dept. carried the case of Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, 52, to a federal grand jury today as the wartime money dealings of the retired Air Force officer began to explode like a chain of delayed action bombs.

Shaken from top to bottom by the charges against its one-time deputy purchasing chief, the two-month-old independent Air Force stripped Meyers of his $549 monthly pension, took away the Distinguished Service Medal and Legion of Merit awarded after his retirement, and announced he'll be court-martialed.

W. Stuart Symington, Secretary of the Air Force, described as "one of the most shocking scandals ever exposed in the history of our government" the testimony before a Senate war investigating subcommittee that Meyers took $150,000 in profits out of a Dayton, O., aircraft parts factory while others in military aviation concentrated on winning the war.

SEEK NEW SYSTEM

Symington told a news conference that as a result the Air Force is moving to set up a purchasing system "which reduces to an absolute minimum the chance of any disgraceful occurrence ever happening again."

Meyers, who has denied profiting personally from the operations of the firm involved—the Aviation Electric Co.—declined to comment on the latest moves against him when reached at his luxurious home in Huntington, N. Y.

Mrs. Mildred Lamarre has threatened a slander suit against the balding but dapper Meyers who swore to Senate investigators that a clandestine affair with her inspired him to set up the Dayton firm with her husband as president.

Sec. Symington Bennett Meyers

"All lies," Mrs. Lamarre declared at Dayton.

The Justice Dept. did not disclose in advance what charges it would level against the retired officer before the grand jury here, but officials said the indicting body would put aside all other matters until the Meyers case is disposed of.

The Senate subcommittee, headed by Sen. Ferguson (R.) of Michigan, suggested that on the basis of its record, prosecution for war fraud, corruption, perjury and income tax evasion would be appropriate.

Atty.-Gen. Clark had announced that the income tax angle would be handed to a grand jury in the district where Meyers filed his wartime returns. Officials disclosed these were filed at Baltimore.

Symington declared at his press conference that Meyers, who was retired for disability in August, 1945, came to his office last Oct. 11 and demanded a court-martial "to keep my name from being smeared across the nation by Sen. Ferguson."

Symington said he declined on the ground that such action would interfere with the war investigating committee's hearings.

At this, he said, Meyers complained "he had not received any co-operation whatever from the Air Force in his troubles, and added he was afraid his testimony would have to bring in a 'lot of important people.'"

OTHERS IN CLEAR

Symington made public at his news conference a letter from Capt. Elmer S. Friedberg of Pottstown, Pa., a veteran of combat with the 9th Air Force in the European Theater, saying:

"A great number of my buddies, whom I grew to respect and love, have made the supreme sacrifice, many shot down in flames before by eyes.

BLOOD-TAINTED CASH

"Did they die so men of Meyers' ilk could ply their filthy trade, to be able to wallow around in money gained through the blood poured by me and my fellow fliers?

"How long is the covering up of one brass hat by another going to continue?"

Symington gave the reporters copies of his reply assuring Friedberg that the Air Force is "working with all agencies of the government to be sure to see that justice shall be done" and adding:

"The record you and your comrades, both living and dead, established over Europe and in the Pacific, is far too deep and enduring ever to be sullied by the dishonest action of any individual, regardless of his rank."

Slavs Free 6 Border Patrol U. S. Soldiers

TRIESTE, Nov. 25 (AP)—The U. S. Army Public Relations office said six American soldiers taken into custody yesterday by Yugoslav troops were released to American authorities today. Names of the six men and details of the manner in which they were taken into custody, held and released will be made public in 48 hours, under the terms of a new regulation, Public Relations said.

(In Belgrade it was reported that Marshal Tito had issued an order to his troops on the Austrian and Trieste free territory borders that all military personnel who stray over the line in an "obviously accidental" manner are to be released immediately.)

U. S. Army headquarters announced earlier that the six soldiers, comprising an entire border patrol, "evidently got out of bounds" in Venezia Giulia, about 15 miles from here.

Capture of the patrol brought to 18 the number of U. S. soldiers taken into custody by the Yugoslavs in this area since August. All have been released. During the same period five British soldiers and sailors were made prisoners.

Hannegan Resigns As P. O. Chief

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (INS)—The White House announced today the resignation of Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan.

President Truman immediately appointed Jesse M. Donaldson, present first assistant Postmaster General, to fill out the remainder of Hannegan's term which ends Feb. 20, 1949.

Report U. S. to Aid France if Reds Rise

By KINGSBURY SMITH

LONDON, Nov. 25 (INS)—Reports current in French delegation circles in London today insist the United States has promised to aid the Paris government in the event Communist forces try to seize power in France, or if civil war breaks out.

These assurances reportedly were given to French Foreign Minister Bidault by U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery shortly before the former left for the Big Four conference in London.

No confirmation of these reports could be obtained directly from Bidault, and they may be denied officially.

Nevertheless, the International News Service has learned that some members of the French delegation privately maintain such assurances have been given.

As a result of this promise of American help, Premier Schuman — according to these French sources—has been encouraged to take strong action to restore law and order in France and to end the current wave of Communist-led strikes.

French Strikers May Face Draft

PARIS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Sources close to the new French government hinted today that Premier Robert Schuman might order conscription of workers in key jobs as one means of fighting Communist-led strikes now threatening the whole economy of France.

These informants said Schuman might make one last offer of increased wages before cracking down on the strikers, now estimated to number more than 1,000,000 men.

Big 4 Opens Meeting On Pact for Reich

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain and France started today their second attempt to frame a peace for Germany, despite the wide-open conflict between Russia and the western powers over the economic and political future of Europe.

Secretary Marshall met with V. M. Molotov of Russia, Ernest Bevin of Britain and Georges Bidault of France in the blue and gold council room of Lancaster House at 10:30 p. m.

Earlier, according to an official British source, Bevin and Molotov had a very friendly meeting and agreed unanimity in the Big Four meeting is of "the very highest importance" to the future of the world.

It was the first session of the Council of Foreign Ministers since the four adjourned their unsuccessful efforts at Moscow last April to write a peace treaty for Austria and unify Germany.

Masked Pair Hold Up Downtown Gem Shop

Two handkerchief-masked gunmen ignored the new police holdup squad today, staging a daring jewelry robbery in the heart of the Washington st. shopping center, where they looted the House of Wesley in the Dexter building of $3500 in plunder, then escaped after binding and gagging one of the proprietors, Salvatore Carcerano, 36, of Everett st., East Boston. Carcerano, alone at the time, was threatened with death if he made an outcry or unbidden move. After the pair stuffed the jewelry into a shopping bag, they taped his mouth, wired his hands and legs, then stretched him on the floor behid a showcase.

He banged his head against a wall repeatedly in an effort to get help but it availed nothing. He was able to free himself only after 20 minutes of struggling.

Carcerano told police the men walked into his shop at 9:20, a few minutes after he had opened it.

"Keep quiet if you know what's good for you. Give us those trays behind the show case and give us the combination of the safe or we'll take a shot at you."

YIELDS COMBINATION

The jeweler said he yielded the combination. The gunmen then filled their bag with watches, rings and costume jewelry.

Just before they fled one cut the telephone wire.

The shop is on the eighth floor. Elevator girls at the building said they had no recollection of taking up two men of the bandits' descriptions. Inasmuch as the jewelry establishment is next to a stairway, it is believed the gunmen may have entered and left in that manner.

When Carcerano finally loosed the wire from his hands and feet, he ran to the nearby Veterans' Fix-It shop of John Reidy, McNulty st., Charlestown, who called police.

GIVES DESCRIPTION

Carcerano, who operates the jewelry store with his brother, Louis, of Snow st., Brighton, was taken to headquarters to examine the photographs of holdup men in the rogues' gallery.

He said one of the men was about 23, short, weighing approximately 145 pounds and wearing a gray hat. He was the gun carrier. The other was in his 50's, 5 feet 9, weighing perhaps 165 pounds.

Employes of the building said they remembered a suspiciously acting man who was canvasing eighth floor offices early Saturday night as a "salesman" for steam flatirons. Police obtained his description.

Yesterday, a large amount of cash had been in the office but was deposited by Louise Carcerano. Of today's haul, $400 was in cash.

Snow, Rain Sweep Most of North

Snow and rain fell over much of the northern part of the country today but temperatures were above zero in the coldest sections of the Midwest frost belt.

Light snow and rain fell across the upper Mississippi valley eastward through the Great Lakes region, the upper Ohio valley and into New England. Northern New England also reported sleet. Fair weather was reported over most of the South.

6 Haverhill Bandit Suspects Held After Roundup by Posse

Six youths, charged by police with responsibility for a score of recent burglaries and auto thefts, were rounded up today after police had captured three of them in a three-hour search of a wooded and swamp area near Haverhill Airport.

Police Capt. John Madden, of Haverhill, said that after questioning the six had confessed to the series of crimes during the past week on both sides of the Massachusetts - New Hampshire line. Five, he said, were booked on larceny charges and the sixth on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Arraigned in Haverhill District Court on larceny charges were Cornelius Danehy, Jr., 19, Essex st., Lawrence; Clifford L. Grandmont, 21, Cedar st.; Robert A. Girard, 22, Howard st.; Michael Pinto, 20 Oak st., and Albert M. Travers, 26, River st., all of Haverhill.

Arraigned on the stolen property charge was Roy W. O'Neill, 31, of Tenney st., Haverhill.

HELD IN $2000 EACH

The five pleaded guilty to the larceny charges and were held in $2000 each with their cases continued for a week by Judge Daniel J. Cavan. O'Neill pleaded not guilty to the receiving charge and was ordered held in $1000 with a one-week continuance.

City Marshal Henry Lynch told the court that police expected to lodge additional charges against the group before their cases came up again next week.

Capt. Madden said the six young men had been under suspicion for the past week but that it was not until shortly after midnight that police were able to take action against them.

Three of the six, Grandmont, Danehy and Pinto, were seen in an auto, bearing stolen registration plates by Patrolmen William Klueber and John Gardella.

RUSH TO STATE LINE

Notifying headquarters by radio, the officers gave chase as the suspects' car headed out of the city at a rapid clip in the direction of New Hampshire.

Massachusetts and New Hampshire state police sent cruiser cars converging toward the area. Officials of Rockingham county and the town of Plaistow, N. H., also were notified and rushed men to the state line to block the fleeing car.

Meanwhile, both Klueber and Gardella had fired several shots during the chase. The car finally went out of control on a sharp curve, bounced up and down an embankment and then crashed into a tree.

The three men leaped from the wrecked car and plunged into the nearby woods. Police then circled the fivemile area preparatory to making a thorough search.

WAIST-DEEP IN SWAMP

As the day was beginning to dawn, searchers surprised Grandmont and Danehy as they attempted to cross a highway from the woods to the airport area. Pinto was found, waist-deep in a swamp and calling for help in the belief he was trapped in quicksand.

After brief questioning of the trio, police went to the homes of the other three and took them into custody. Officers said the six had been together last night and then had separated.

In the wrecked car, police found two loaded guns, a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson and a nine-shot, .22 caliber pistol.

69 Prisoners Give Up After 15-Hour Siege

WAUPUN, Wis., Nov. 25 (AP) —Sixty-nine striking convicts tossed away their home-made weapons and filed peacefully out of their state prison barricade today after a 15-hour siege by more than 150 heavily armed officers and guards. The four guards they had held as hostages were not harmed.

Ten minutes after a surrender ultimatum was given, the last of the prisoners had left the second floor of the laundry they seized yesterday afternoon.

Deputies searched the room in which the prisoners had holed up and said they found weapons such as wooden clubs, sharpened bits of metal and lengths of pipe.

The surrender came suddenly and dramatically after the all-night siege.

Despite the tense situation, there was no violence.

A public address system was set up and an order was given for the first 20 men to come out. They emerged almost immediately. A second order brought out 20 more convicts and the third emptied the laundry room.

Law enforcement officers from a dozen communities in a 70 mile radius had been called to the prison. Acting Gov. Rennebohm and deputy sheriffs sped here from Milwaukee, 70 miles away.

Guards had been armed with machine guns, tear gas and shotguns. From towers atop the 22-foot prison walls additional guards, with high powered rifles, had commanded all approaches to and from the laundry building.

Goat-Milk Bon Vivant Had Sweetie at 60 Wife Charges

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—A goat's milk diet prescribed for Joseph J. Akston not only aided his health but put spring in his heart, Mrs. Marguerite Vivienna Akston charged in a divorce suit filed in Manhattan Supreme Court. In fact, she added, her fifth husband, although he is crowding 60, developed such goatish tendencies that he and the voluptuous April Tew had been more than friendly "at divers times between July 15 and Sept. 16."

She listed nine specific occasions during a three an done-half week period. This frolicking, she said, all occurred at the ritzy Hotel Marguery, where April has been living since her husband, J. Dinsmore Tew, 2d, filed a divorce suit against her in Palm Beach last April.

ALIMONY ASKED

In addition, she charged, there had been additional romping at the Mill River Farm in Brookville.

The often-wedded Vivienne also asked for "reasonable" alimony for her support, although she was reputedly comfortably wealthy after inheriting a stack of British coal mines from her fourth husband, Arthur Woolley-Hart, who departed this life in 1941.

Akston, who makes his home in Park aye. and is president of Dor-ket Foods, Lt., has entered a general denial to all the charges. There have ben no papers filed as yet on April's behalf.

The suit was placed on the calendar for trial in January without a jury.

Vivienne's marriage to Akston, which took place in Putnam county in January, 1946, is the shortest of a marital career dating back to 1906.

FIRST WED AT 17

At the age of 17 she became the bride of James H. Birch, but they were divorced in 1912. In London she married Baron Walter Von Radeck, but divorced him after the outbreak of World War I to marry Count Guenther Von Bernstorff. This marriage ended in 1924 and in 1928 she became the bride of wealthy Woolley-Hart and—in the next 12 years—London's most lavish hostess.

After his death she returned to this country and in 1946 married Akston. Because of his health, doctors prescribed a goat's milk diet and she said she purchased a herd and kept them on their Ridgefield, Ct., estate, just to help him. She thinks now they helped too much.

U. S. Agents Bare Dope Ring As Successor to Luciano's

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE
Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Federal agents were closing in today on a new and powerful drug ring which succeeded the notorious Mafia mob and Lucky Luciano.

Harry F. Anslinger, narcotics commissioner, said that Ralph Masey, found dead on a New York-Los Angeles plane with a rich haul of heroin in his luggage, was probably a runner for such an organization.

"With information obtained in the investigation of Masey, we are confident we will be able to put our fingers on a new and sinister ring which has sprung up since we broke the Mafia mob," he said.

SECOND MAN ESCAPES

Anslinger said another man, probably a high-ranking member of the dope ring, rode the plane with Masey, but eluded police in Los Angeles.

"In an unclaimed suitcase was some clothing much too large for Masey and much too fine, as compared with the clothing he was wearing. It was made by an exclusive London tailor. We will be able to trace that."

The narcotics commissioner believes the valuable haul of heroin was consigned to a well-organized unit of the ring in Los Angeles.

He asserted that while the heroin undoubtedly came in through New York, it was impossible to say whether it had originated in Europe, Asia or Latin America. He said, however, that it would be possible to spot its origin as soon as samples are submitted for alalysis.

TWICE SENTENCED

Masey was well known to narcotic agents, having been twice arrested and sentenced for violations of the narcotics law, on both occasions as a small-time pedlar, Anslinger stated.

He was convicted in New York in 1928 and 1933, and in each instance drew sentences of two years.

He used the aliases of Nazy and Macri.

Anslinger said information reaching the bureau here indicated that opium from which this heroin was made came into New York from Mexico or Europe.

It is refined in underground laboratories in New York and pure heroin is produced. This has a value of $4000 an ounce and, in the form in which Masey was transporting it, could be cut at 90 to one—that is, one ounce of the pure heroin would make 90 ounces of that commonly used by addicts.

EVIDENCE OF NEW RING

"There is abundant evidence, however, that a new ring is in full operation," Anslinger stated. "They are using planes to get the opium into New York. Recently we found a consignment of opium in a plane which crashed and the occupants escaped. This opium was obviously being flown in from south of the border.

"None of the facts so far uncovered in this case seems to point to any of the old Mafia mob, so the only conclusion is that it is an entirely new ring.

"With what we now know, as a result of finding the heroin on the way to Los Angeles, we should be able to close in very quickly."

Oil Shortage Predicted Despite Promise of 20 Navy Tankers

New England's fuel oil and gasoline picture was a bit brighter today but petroleum industry leaders continued to insist that only by sternest conservation could requirements be met. The bright side of the picture came with announcement by the U. S. Maritime Commission that 20 large Navy tankers, each capable of carrying 138,000 barrels, would be turned over for use between Gulf ports and hard-pressed New England.

This promise was made by V. Adm. William W. Smith, chairman of the commission, after New England governors and congressional representatives had urged that no further sale of government tankers be made to Europe until domestic requirements were met.

Despite the announcement, however, the American Petroleum Institute said "it is doubtful that New England's requirements will be completely met this winter unless users of petroleum products co-operate in conserving the available supply."

A. E. Willis, of Socony-Vacuum, vice chairman of the oil industry public relations committee, blamed the shortage on a "transportation-storage bottleneck."

"The industry has been unable to get materials for building new pipe lines, tank cars and trucks and storage tanks," he said.

The unprecedented and unpredicted demand for petroleum products is due to a number of factors. There are 3,000,000 more cars on the road than last year and 20 per cent of the nation's home owners have converted from coal to oil heat.

SHE STICKS TO HER KNITTING AT 104

WEST SCARBOROUGH, Me., Nov. 25 (AP) — Mrs. Susan Cleveland Nicholson, who still darns the menfolks' stockings "because no one at home can do them as well," observed her 104th birthday today, reading her greeting cards and chatting gayly with visitors.

A fifth cousin of the late President Grover Cleveland, Mrs. Nicholson was "up and around as usual," her daughter, Mrs. George W. Porter, reported.

Mrs. Parker, with whom Mrs. Nicholson resides, said her mother had just completed crocheting "a beautiful chair back," and that her home is filled with her mother's needlework.

Believed to be Maine's oldest woman, Mrs. Nicholson attributes her long life to her faith in God and the excellent care given her by her four daughters.

"My daughters are always concerned for me," she related. "They are watching my health continually lest I sit in a draft or become exposed to germs."

Army Transport On Alaska Reef Silent Since SOS

SEATTLE, Nov. 25 (AP)—An Alaska steamer and two Coast Guard cutters raced through the predawn darkness today to the aid of the grounded 10,850-ton Army transport Cuarksdale Victory from which no word has been received since she flashed an SOS at 10:04 p. m. (Pacific Coast Time) last night.

Ship on Graham Island Reef

Coast Guard authorities in Seattle and Ketchikan, Alaska, said they were seriously concerned over the transport's failure to answer dozens of messages sent in an effort to establish contact.

They said the striken vessel's long silence since she went aground on a reef off Graham Island, in the Queen Charlotte group approximately 140 miles southwest of Ketchikan, may mean:

1—The transport ripped her bottom out and went down; 2—heavy seas caused her to break up; 3—The 49 crewmen aboard have abandoned ship, or 4—The smashup put her power plant out of commission.

The Clarksdale Victory was making the trip with 100 tons of cargo. It carried no passengers.

Capt. Gerald R. Laugeson of San Francisco, the skipper, said in his distress call that huge sweels were pounding his ship and immediate assistance was needed.

An hour later the British Columbia weather bureau at Vancouver, B. C., warned that gale winds up to 45 miles an hour were expected in that area this morning, subsiding to 20 miles an hour by midafternoon. Rains and light fog also were forecast.

First rescue vessel due on the scene was the Alaska Steamship Co.'s S. S. Denali, expected to arrive off Graham Island this morning.

The Denali, a passenger-freighter, was in the mouth of the inside passage just south of Ketchikan when it swung off course and headed it full speed for the Clarksdale victory.

The cutters Wachusetts from Juneau and Citrus from Port MacArthur were ot due to reach the transport until hours later.

The Clarksdale's SOS also was picked up by the General Omar Bundy, a Army transport due in Seattle Wednesday with 2000 troops from Yokohama.

Orders were issued by the Army, however, for the Bundy to proceed here rather than risk heading into the storm area with her heavy load of passengers.

Downtown Crash Hospitalizes Girl

A young man and woman were injured, the latter seriously, when an auto and truck were in collision early today at the intersection of Summer and Washington sts. The truck was overturned.

Miss Mary Buttiglieri, 25, of Hanover st., North End, passenger in the car of Gerard F. Addrisi, 22, of Bennington st., East Boston, suffered a possible fractured skull, lacerations of face and internal injuries. At City Hospital her name was placed on the danger list. Addrisi was treated for cuts about the forehead and face.

Dying Leukemia Boy Enjoys Pre-Dated Christmas Party

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (INS)—Donald McEnaney, 8, was in a Chicago hospital today—living, physicians said, ahead of the calendar and on borrowed time.

To Donald it's the day after Christmas.

Donald's premature celebration of that happy holiday came because physicians diagnosed his illness as leukemia, for which there is no known cure.

PARTY AT HOME

Doctors said Donald is not expected to survive until the real Christmas.

So yesterday at his home, Donald had a Christmas such as would warm any youngster's heart.

A Chicago newspaper prepared the party.

Gene Autry, cowboy singing and screen star, telephoned Donald long distance. Donald talked to his idol in a cowboy suit, a gift of two women who had read about him.

TOO EXCITED TO EAT

Donald may have made some other people happy, too.

His mother said with puzzlement:

"Sometimes, I think he knows his fate.

"He saw me with tears in my eyes the other day, and he told me not to worry—that after all, I was to keep him only until God took him away."

North End Baker Crushed Hand in Mixing Machine

Trapped Baker Directs Rescue

A baker, his right hand caught and mangled in the paddles of a dough-mixing machine and suffering excruciating pain early today, calmly gave police resources instructions as they worked to release him.

The victim, John Kashashian, 66, of Carver st., South End, employed at the Cassaro Bakery in South Margin st., North End, had to be given oxygen before the machine could be dismantled sufficiently to release the hand.

The accident occurred while he was mixing a batch of dough in the electrically operated machine. His hand, caught between the paddles, was being drawn further into the machine when his screams attracted fellow employes who summoned police and firemen.

At Massachusetts General Hospital, the victim was found to have suffered a fractured hand and shock.

Checks Given Widows Of Two Hero Firemen

Checks donated by the people of Greater Boston were presented today at fire headquarters to Mrs. Warren E. Barnard and Mrs. Patrick J. Cady, widows of the two firemen who lost their lives in the Chauncy st. blaze of Oct. 22, 1946.

The two widows received equal checks from the total contributions of $31,480.84, part of which each donated to Lt. James F. Flahive of Rescue Co. 1, who is still confined to his home.

Chicago Strike Hits Newspapers

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—More than 1500 AFL printers employed by Chicago's six daily newspapers were on strike today, but spokesmen for the newspapers said publication would continue uninterrupted.

The strike became effective at 9 last night, but the three morning newspapers, the Tribune, Sun and Journal of Commerce, already had published early Tuesday editions.

The three afternoon dailies, the Herald-American, Daily News and Times planned to have near normal size editions on the street at the regular time, spokesmen for the newspapers said.

All of the dailies planned to publish by means of typewritten copy reproduced by a photo-engraving process. The strike is confined to the newspapers' composing rooms.

Hormone Story Coming Sunday

Less than a year ago, the American Weekly published a series of articles describing the manner in which four companies were maintaining high prices for sex hormones, so effective in the fight against disease.

Upon reading the articles, U. S. Atty.-Gen. Tom Clark launched an immediate investigation. Today the price of hormones has been cut approximately in half, and, in addition, new scientific discoveries may alter the entire sex hormone field.

For an up-to-date picture of how you are affected by these developments, be sure to read "Hormones for Millions" in next Sunday's American Weekly, issued with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

THE PRIME OF LIFE CAN BE PROLONGED

Dr. Henry G. Sherman Says:

"A generous supply of Calcium results in better development of the young, a higher form of adult health, and a longer lease of what we may call the prime of life—the period between maturity and old age." Calcium is more often deficient in the diet than any other mineral. Calcium deficiency is a form of malnutrition that may be the cause of acidity, nervousness, fatigue, weakened heart muscles and other effects which hasten the onset of "OLD AGE" and shorten the "PRIME OF LIFE."

AM I NERVOUS?

Sleeplessness with ragged, jagged nerves may be due to a calcium deficiency which upsets the parathyroid glands causing intense sensitivity of the whole nervous system.

DO I TIRE EASILY?

A calcium starved body tires easily. A calcium deficiency may cause an upset nerve system, less strength, energy and vitality. No person can be normal without a sufficient supply of calcium.

AM I OLD AT 40?

Old at 40, evidence of early aging, perhaps at 50 or 60, may be due to calcium deficiency. Calcium is needed, in adequate amount, in the repair and growth of body organs, tissues, cells. If your health is impaired, if you are run down, tired, old at 40 and nervous because you do not get enough Calcium or Phosphorus or Vit. D or Vitamin B1, add KAL to your diet. See how much better you feel after KAL helps to build up, then maintain a normal Calcium-Phosphorus balance and help overcome the ill effects of a deficiency of the vital elements KAL so richly supplies.

Fall River Graft Probers Due To Quiz Chelsea Contractor

State investigators continued the Fall River graft probe today under orders to dig out further evidence in an alleged $20,000 bribe demand in connection with an $800,000 federal housing project which eventually was abandoned.

They will make their findings when the Bristol County grand jury probe resumes next week and it was expected indictments would be sought against seven persons.

Now under indictment in another phase of the probe are Municipal Public Works Comr. Thomas J. Logan and City Councilors John F. Doyle and Charles F. LaPointe. Indictment of the latter is in connection with $223,000 worth of sidewalk contracts.

State detectives engaged in the probe were expected to remain in Boston all week questioning witnesses in the housing project investigation.

Among the latest witnesses were understood to be executives of a large Chelsea and Brookline construction firm which held a federal government certificate to build an $800,000 housing project in Fall River.

The certificate, according to one investigator, was returned to the government with the explanation that in order to have certain work done by the city in connection with the project it would be necessary to pay "certain persons" $20,000.

Government officials filed the certificate, taking the view that if this was the manner in which operations were conducted in Fall River, the city could do without its housing project.

Sitter Confesses Killing Tiny Girl

GRAND RAPIDS, Minn., Nov. 25 (AP)—Sheriff Marvin W. Mitchell said a 2½-year-old Keewaton, Minn., girl had been slain with an axe and that a 31-year-old woman held in jail here without charge had told him:

"I'm sorry I did it."

The sheriff identified the woman as Mary Sapan and the baby as the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Shuster General.

Sheriff Mitchell gave this version of the slaying:

The parents had left their daughter with Lucy Sapan, 25, while they were on a trip to Duluth, and she had taken the child to the Sapan home.

Later, when she went to visit a neighbor, she left the baby with her sister, Mary. When Lucy returned home about 10 minutes later, the baby's body was on the floor.

Keep High Taxes, Sell Bonds, Treasury Plea

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP) —Secretary Snyder aid today the Theasury plans a huge peacetime bond-selling drive, and he called for keeping taxes high enough to reduce the nation's debt. Discussing President Truman's anti-inflation program as a witness before the House banking committee, Snyder declared:

1—Controls on installment buying should be restored.

2—Congress should provide funds to finance a new drive to sell government bonds to individuals.

As for maintaining a high tax level, Snyder said: It is imperative that during these times of great prosperity we should continue to collect adequate revenues over and above a balanced budget to provide a systematic reduction of the debt total. A reduction in the debt through a substantial budget surplus is the most anti-inflationary measure that can be taken in the fiscal field."

He said, "A sizeable reduction in the public debt will be possible during the earl ymonths of 1948."

This pointed obviously to his conclusion that government income from taxes will exceed its expenditures despite prospective appropriations of millions for foreign aid.

JUDICIAL CASH

Justice was blind to friendship in East Cambridge court today even though courtesy prevailed.

Edwin C. Johnson, 40, New York, visiting friends in Lexington, was fined $5 by Judge Arthur P. Stone for failing to have a sticker on his car. Johnson offered a check to the clerk of court, who said he couldn't accept it, had to have cash.

So up spoke Judge Stone once more.

"I know his family very well. I'll give you the $5. Have him make out the check to me."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Truman Will Fly To Florida Dec. 3

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP) —President Truman will visit Florida in December for a brief holiday and to dedicate the Everglades National Park Dec. 6.

This announcement was made today by the White House, which said Mr. Truman will fly to the naval submarine base at Key West, Dec. 3, to spend a few days.

PRESIDENTIAL DUO

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP) —Unless he loses his nerve, Ohio's champion National Guard recruiter, William H. Diltz, intends to take up a matter of piano playing with President Truman this week.

The 32-year-old soldier said he's always had a "yen" to play a duet with Mr. Truman.

Diltz and recruiting winners from the other states will meet the President, attend a military ball and the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia.

A former professional musician who played with Gus Arnheim's orchestra, Diltz said he would suggest "The Missouri Waltz," the President's favorite.

'Pretty Please' Slayer To Die in Chair

Coudersport, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP)—George H. Chapman, 37-year-old woodchopper, must die in the electric chair for slaying his wife, Minnie, 37, last Aug. 11, because she refused to say "pretty please." Chapman had pleaded guilty to murder. His attorney, James Berger, said he would file an appeal with the State Supreme Court.

4th Ship Loads Cargo for Soviet

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—American machinery and equipment stretching for more than two blocks was loaded aboard a Russian-bound freighter at the Moore-McCormack pier in Jersey City, the New York Mirror learned. The vessel was scheduled to sail today.

It is the fourth Russian ship to load American goods at the same pier this month.

Hitch your Braggin' to this Star

YOU'RE only doing what comes naturally if you boast just a little when a brand-new automobile comes into your life.

That being so, why not do the job up brown—and make sure your future holds some things that are really worth bragging about?

Things, for instance, as far out front as the styling you see here—bright and fresh as tomorrow morning and just as sure a herald of what's in the wind.

Things like Fireball power, eight cylinders big, that puts wings on your going and zoom into every cross-country run.

Things like the comfort of three-person seats, and the good solid steadiness that only enough road-weight can give you.

Things like Safety-Ride rims that give you the softness of 25-lb. tire pressures, yet mean firmness and control in tight spots and more traction from more rubber on the road.

Things like four coil springs, one on each wheel, that put a cushion over every bump and make front-seat and back-seat rides equally soft and buoyant.

Things like handling that is light as your wife's tender touch, a gas treadle that needs only a hint to give action, brakes with a bull-dog's bite and stubborn grip.

Things, in short, such as Buick gives you—things you find in such abundant measure only in this trim and tidy traveler.

They're all things that can be yours if you'll see your Buick dealer, with or without a car to trade, and get your firm order in now.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

5-Minute Workout Per Day Found Cure for Aching Back

By FRANK CAREY

Associated Press Science Reporter

BALTIMORE, Nov. 25 (AP)—Your "sway-back" posture and your pot belly are most likely the co-causes of that low-down pain in your back, a Dixie doctor said today. And, says Dr. Eugene M. Regen of Nashville, a five-minute orkout daily to strengthen abdominal and rear-hip muscles can prevent the "vast majority" of low-back trouble cases. He also says all but about 2 per cent of such cases can be relieved without surgery.

The Vanderbilt University medical school surgeon said in a report prepared for the 41st meeting of the Southern Medical Association:

"At abut the middle twenties, our muscles start to become flabby. The physiological curves of the body having lost their normal muscular support, begin to give way to the force of gravity, and the individual so often becomes potbellied and swaybacked.

"After a time in this state . . . the back can no longer resist the forces of stress and strain . . . the low back . . . Has nothing to do with female pelvic disease, prostate disease, focal infections in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses, gall bladder, appendix, fallopian tubes or other common sites of chronic infection. In spite of this fact, the sufferer is too frequently subjected to surgery, shots (injections), and every other form of guess work."

In addition(he said, "ignorance" regarding low-back pain has in the past, "furnished fertile soil to be cultivated by all sorts of irregular practitioners, who sought to enter medical practice through the back door without qualifying in accepted medical schools."

Thousands of Hub Pupils Compete in History Test

Throughout the city today, thousands of Boston public and parochial high school students were competing for honors in the Fifth Annual Hearst Newspaper National American History Awards.

The competition, recognized by national historians as one of the greatest, was held during the morning school sessions in practically every public, parochial and private high school within the city.

Based on early American history during the periods between 1781 and 1825, including the Constitution of the United States, history students were asked to answer a series of objective questions, plus a 250-word essay on an important historical event.

Immediately following conclusion of the two and a half hour quiz, history teachers of the schools participating immediately began grading papers of students in their respective schools.

The top three papers from each school will be submitted before Monday to either Supt. Arthur L. Gould of the public schools or Rev Cornelius T. H. Sherlock, supervisor of parochial schools in the Boston archdiocese.

A board of history examiners including noted historians and school officials, will complete the final gradings and select the first 25 winners. The top three local history champs picked will participate in the national contest to be held in Faneuil Hall, Dec. 10.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copr. 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

NOW THAT WE ARE to give Europe additional billions of dollars in terms of goods and services, it is wise to go back to Bretton Woods where the World Bank and the International Fund were created to see precisely what it was that the American people were told.

Henry Morgenthau, in explaining the need for a world bank, spoke roseately of the investment of private capital in the war-devastated countries when peace comes. The world bank was to do this:

G. E. Sokolsky

"... With abundant capital, the devastated countries can move steadily toward rehabilitation and a constantly improving standard of living. Nothing could be more conducive to political stability and to international collaboration. Without adequate supplies of capital, however, recovery in Europe and Asia will be slow and sporadic, and economic discontent and international bitterness will in time assume disturbing proportions.'

Nothing of the sort happened. In a word, hope springs eternal in the human breast—but what are the facts?

Franklin D. Roosevelt, in 1944, in his message to the Bretton Woods delegates, said:

"... Commerce is the life blood of a free society. We must see to it that the arteries which carry that bloodstream are not clogged again, as they have been in the past, by artificial barriers created through senseless economic rivalries.

"Economic diseases are highly communicable. It follows, therefore, that the economic health of every country is a proper matter of concern to all its neighbors, near and distant. Only through a dynamic and a soundly expanding world economy can the living standards of individual nations be advanced to levels which will permit a full realization of our hopes for the future."

To quote Henry Morgenthau again:

"... Prosperity, like peace, is indivisible. We cannot afford to have it scattered here or there among the fortunate or to enjoy it at the expense of others. Poverty, wherever it exists, is menacing to us all and undermines the well-being of each of us. It can no more be localized than war, but spreads and saps the economic strength of all the more-favored areas of the earth. We know now that the thread of economic life in every nation is inseparably woven into a fabric of world economy ..."

The International Latex Corporation, Playtex Park, Dover, Del., presented an advertisement "as a public service," in which it is stated:

"Today (1945) we have a second chance to build a structure of lasting peace. We all know there will not be a third. That is why we have joined the other United Nations to plan the political machinery for preventing aggression.

"And that is why, at Bretton Woods, we joined in planning the machinery for expanding world trade, for assuring prosperity, jobs and security for all peoples."

JOHN MAYNARD KEYNES, chairman of the British delegation to Bretton Woods, told that there would be a "crisis" without the World Bank but that "it would be a great mistake" to confuse the bank, the stabilization fund and the long time It will take Great Britain to repay her debts, exclusive of lend-lease, which he placed at $12,000,000,000. Keynes also said that as a result of Bretton Woods the International Fund would make gold "a monarch subject to constitutional limitations," whatever that might mean. Of ccurse, the fund has long been in existence, but if gold is any kind of a monarch, it is one without a throne.

SUMNER WELLES wrote:

"... But the surest way of guaranteeing the profitable participation by the American people in world trade in the future will be through their realization that international commerce will not exist unless international confidence and international purchasing power are restored, and that such restoration will be immeasurably retarded unless they are prepared to cooperate fully with other nations in the establishment of such agencies as those planned at the recent monetary conference."

Well, there is a lot more of the same, but none of it has worked out as suggested. Instead came the British loan, the stop-gap financing and the various Marshall Plans. The roseately optimistic still continue singing that only American billions are necessary to save us from the next catastrophe. What saved us from the last crisis?

Smart Set Debutante Assembly at Somerset

By BETTY ALDEN

THE DEBUTANTES' LOVELIEST GOWNS will be worn tomorrow evening at Boston's first Thanksgiving Eve Debutante Assembly, a glittering social occasion to take its place with Baltimore's famous Bachelors Cotillion and the Assemblies of New York and Philadelphia.

Debutantes of the current season and their parents have been invited and for extra festivity all the girls who were debutantes last winter will attend with their escorts. Many dinner parties will be given before the Assembly which takes place in the Hotel Somerset ballroom with Harry Marshard featuring all the popular music of the season.

Seventeen girls and twice as many boys will be dinner guests of Dorothy Lee Jones, daughter of Mrs. Harry Lee Jones of Newton Centre, who is entertaining in the Balinese Room before the Assembly. Dorothy made her debut last Christmas and is a senior at Erskine School. She will study voice in Europe next year.

Barbara Bell

They also will include three of the Assembly ushers, George Cabot Lodge, Henry Russell, Jr., and H. A. Crosby Forbes. Also college boys from Yale, Harvard, Princeton and Williams, George Brewer 3d, James Brassert, Francis Brown Jr., Moses Carr Jr., Harvey Chandler, Robert Cunningham, Robert L. Day, Thomas Frothingham, Bernard C. Greenly, Cornelius Gallagher, Herbert Hudson, Peter Henderson, Thomas A. Hiam, Charles Kenny, Frederick B. Lund 3d, Willis Leith, P. Pope Marion, Worthington Mayo-Smith and Clinton McKim.

Also Julian C. Hall, Donald Charles Proctor, David Peters, Michael Robbins, Stephen Root, James Spalding, Lauriston Ward, George E. Weaver, Alexander Williams, Thomas Woods, William Whitehead, Philip Farrington, Louis Cloutier, John Lee.

THE SECOND ROMANCE uniting the families of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis Minot of Boston and Prof. and Mrs. Alfred O. Gross of Brunswick, Me., is revealed in announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Minot of the engagement of their daughter, Abby Manning Minot, to William A. O. Gross.

Otis N. Minot and Louise Gross, brother and sister of Abby and Bill respectively, were married in 1943. Abby is a graduate of Winsor School and Smith College and is teaching at Chapin School, New York.

Her fiance attended Bowdoin College and Harvard, and for the past three years has been with Ted Bates, Inc., New York advertising agency. He participated in scientific expeditions to Labrador and the headwaters of the Amazon and was director of the Bowdoin Scientific Station in the Bay of Fundy. During the war he was in charge of steel allocations for the ODT.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT and fashion show entitled "Christmas on Beacon Hill" will be a gay spot in the program at the luncheon in the Copley Plaza ballroom Dec. 9 to benefit the Unitarian Service committee. The show will portray a traditional Yuletide celebration in Louisburg Square with clothes and gifts from a number of Back Bay shops. Proceeds will aid the committee in its work of providing medical rehabilitation, child care and emergency relief for the needy in Europe.

Mrs. B. Harrison Ragle is chairman of the event and sponsors include: Mrs. W. Clarke Atwater, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin, Hon. and Mrs. Robert F. Bradford, Mrs. [illegible] Jr., Mrs. Harvey H. Bundy, Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. William Claflin, Mrs. Karl Compton, Mrs. J. Templemann Coolidge, Mrs. Edward Cunningham, Mr. Robert Cutler.

2 Slain in New Italian Outbreaks

ROME, Nov. 25 (AP) — A Christian Democrat and a Communist youth were slain last night in the province of Calabria, signaling resumption of the violence which has plagued Italy for two weeks.

The new outbursts followed the same pattern as other eruptions which have become integrated with a concerted leftist assault against the Christian Democratic government of Premier Alcide De Gasperi. Nearby Apulia province was similarly afflicted last week.

'ABEX' New Air Booking Device

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Quicker service at airline reservation windows was forecast today with announcement by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. that it has developed an automatic device to handle bookings.

The corporation said its revolutionary electro-mechanical device "ABEX" (automatic booking exchange) includes a keyboard and printer in the office of the selling agent. Signals representing the passenger's wants are transmitted to an automatic central point.

The machine sends back information as to whether the space is available. If not, the automatic brain relays information on the nearest flight to serve the customer's needs.

The corporation said the system would be installed in New York at one of the major airlines. It forecast a 50 per cent cut in the $20,000,000 it said airlines spend annually handling reservations.

Milk by Prescription Only in Toledo Strike

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 25 (AP)—Milk was available only by doctor's prescription today in this city of 280,000 as a strike affecting seven major dairies entered its fourth day.

Dairy officials announced the needs of invalids and children would be met by two dairies if persons called at the plants with prescriptions. Deliveries are being made to hospitals and institutions.

Shirley Temple In Dramatic Role

"That Hagen Girl," Warners' Shirley Temple-starring film version of the widely discussed novel by Edith Roberts, is to have its initial local showing Thanksgiving Day on the Paramount and Fenway screens.

It marks Shirley's debut as a full-fledged dramatic actress. She plays a beautiful girl who, because of another woman's shame, becomes involved in a web of scandal. Innocent victim of malicious lies, she becomes a social outcast.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

Ronald Reagan co-stars in the role of a lawyer who attempts to tear the veil from his young client's dark past. Rory Calhoun, Lois Maxwell and Penny Edwards head the supporting cast. Peter Godfrey directed.

Oscar Levant's Wife Seeks Separation

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25 (INS) —Suit for separate maintenance was on file today against Oscar Levant, pianist, composer and quiz wizard of the radio show "Information Please."

His wife, Mrs. June Levant, accused him of extreme cruelty. She asked for "reasonable" alimony for her support and the support of the couple's three children. Mrs. Levant placed her husband's income at $200,000 a year and their community property at $500,000.

Buddy Rogers Never Liked Self on Screen

By PEGGY DOYLE

In the twenties, Charles "Buddy" Rogers was to the movie-going teen-agers what Van Johnson until a while back was to today's bobby-soxers. Today, a co-producer of "Sleep, My Love," the Claudette Colbert-Don Ameche-Robert Cummings starring picture presented by his wife, Mary Pickford, and to be released around the first of the year in a local theater by United Artists, the graying Rogers reveals he never liked himself on the screen.

"I have a complex—I never liked myself on the screen," he confessed at a press luncheon United Artists gave for him at the Statler. "I was never satisfied with the way I looked or acted on the screen. I'd think: 'Why did I have to do it that way? Why not this way?'

"Unfortunately I started in pictures in the collegiate era. Then the Gables and the Cagneys came along. Cagney, remember, socked Mae Clark in the face with a grapefruit in 'Public Enemy.' That was the end of my vogue.

"The next year, I said to myself, I'll show 'em I'm tough. I played it tough but nothing came through on the screen to suggest it. Now I'm much more relaxed, and get much more of a bang out of my job than I did in those dear, dead, hectic days of my dissatisfied if fabulous youth."

It was suggested that Rogers, with his distinguishing silver-threads-among-the-black pompadour in interesting contrast to a boyish countenance, might very easily step in and give the Gables and the Pidgeons and the Colmans some competition.

Possibly, he smiled, and then remembered aloud an amusing remark made by the Duchess of Windsor the night before.

He and the Duke and Duchess and several others were dinner guests at the Waldorf Towers apartment of the Harold Brookses. During the course of the evening, he and the famous American for whom a king bartered his throne were in conversation when the Duchess, her sapphire-blue eyes twinkling, remarked:

"You're like myself, always in the background. We must get together some time and talk things over."

Rogers, a lieutenant-commander during the war, is in Boston through Wednesday to stimulate Navy enlistments as well as enlistments in the Red Cross nursing corps. New enlistees are invited to be his guests in flights aboard his personally - piloted plane, newly rechristened "Sleep, My Love" in honor of his new picture.

When Rogers first got out of the Navy, he produced several short films; "Little Iodine," based on the newspaper cartoon, and "Susie Steps Out."

The last picture he acted in, made in September, 1941, was "Sing For Your Supper," and he was co-starred with Jinx Falkenburg. But the picture which has the happiest associations for him is "Wings," in which he, the hero, appeared with Clara Bow, Gary Cooper and Richard Arlen.

This film was to the Air Force .. it concerned the part played by our Air Force during the battle of the Saint Mihiel salient in World War I . . . what "The Big Parade" was to the infantry.

"During the war, pilots frequently would come up to me and tell of having seen 'Wings' as small boys and of getting the idea after seeing the picture that they wanted to be aviators."

'Rose Marie,' Old Favorite, Again Delights

Neither rain that assumed deluge proportions at curtain-time nor familiarity with the score and the book daunted the Opera House lastnighters. In notably sentimental American fashion, they broke the night's show records to welcome back an old friend, "Rose Marie," enabling the Opera House to outgross every other theater in town last night.

"Rose Marie," a frequent visitor in the past 25 years and most recently presented here in February, 1946, with Nina Olivette, Billy Sully and Malcolm Lee Beggs in the roles they play with such knowing skill is, as you know, the Rudolf Friml operetta with lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein 2d.

The score's wistful title song is one of this country's most popular songs in the past 25 years.

The other starring tunes are "Indian Love Call," "Only a Kiss" and "Totem Tom Tom."

Beyond any performer or brace of performers, it is the Friml tunes and the Hammerstein lyrics that keep this ageless operetta evergreen in American memory.

Acting honors go to Miss Olivette and Sully, whose old-time vaudevillian caperings delighted the customers. Both have that sense of timing and comedy values that are part and parcel of the best of the old-school vaudeville performer. Their easy exchange of corny persiflage was received with roars of laughter.

Blanche Chanson, a little girl with a big voice, is perhaps too coy a Rose Marie. Brent Williams' rangy, good-looking Jim Kenyon is in the accepted tradition and Malcolm Lee Beggs, as Sergt. Malone of the Mountains, is a hale, bluff and hearty fellow.

"Rose Marie," which is being presented by the Messrs. Shubert, will continue at the Opera House through this week only.

The usual Wednesday matinee performance has been moved forward to Thanksgiving Day.

Two Trumans

THE FREQUENT EBBING and flowing in the popular prestige of President Truman springs from his dual personality.

As an individual, Mr. Truman has the instincts of common sense and frugality. Thus, when he talks his own mind, he is not without appeal.

But in the great game of politics there is a second Mr. Truman, a synthetic personality compounded out of the vote-seeking formulae of his brain trusters and political manipulators.

The disparity between promise and performance was originally exemplified in President Truman's attitude toward public spending.

He talked about thrift and prudence, yet in his latest budget he proposed expenditures MORE THAN FOUR TIMES the amount of the biggest prewar New Deal budget.

Recently President Truman demonstrated similar instability in matters relating to the basic freedom of American citizens.

On October 16 last, at a White House press conference, Mr. Truman expressed his dislike for economic controls which he described as methods of a police state.

Yet a month later, President Truman in his message to Congress called for legislation to impose such controls, including selective price ceilings, selective rationing, and selective allocations.

The contrast between what Mr. Truman advocated on October 16 and what he demanded of Congress on November 17 is indeed shocking.

THERE ARE IN FACT TWO MR. TRUMANS.

One is the simple Missourian, who occasionally indulges himself in the luxury of expressing his own inner convictions and and instinctive common sense.

Then there is the second Mr. Truman, whose ghost writers and political manipulators restyle him to give him a "New Look" which will appeal more to great pressure groups.

It is high time for public opinion to call a halt to such vacillation, and to make it clear to the President that John Q. Public realizes: "What you are speaks so loudly, I cannot hear what you say."

The approach of the day of reckoning calls for leadership based on high integrity and deep conviction.

WRONG ATTITUDE

ALTHOUGH the Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and many other leading citizens, including Daniel J. Lyne, former president of the Boston Bar Association, have warned that the people of Massachusetts cannot afford to contribute a hundred million dollars a year needlessly to the Federal income tax collector, some lawyers still persist in opposing the adoption of a Community Property law.

These lawyers would use their time and talents more wisely and beneficially if they gave their tongue a rest and really tried to help the legislative Community Property Commission draft a statute similar to the one already in effect in California and other States which are growing much more rapidly than Massachusetts.

Too many Community Property opponents are unduly concerned with imaginary situations involving divorce and the breaking up of the home, and not sufficiently concerned with the fact that a wife has a moral right to share in the control of property which she enabled her husband to acquire after marriage.

Massachusetts is not a divorce-minded State.

Massachusetts is a family-minded State.

For generations most Massachusetts families have practiced the Community Property system privately.

Why cannot they be allowed to practice it publicly and legally—especially since this will enable them to reduce their Federal income taxes as much as 39 per cent and give them more money to spend for food, clothes and the education of their children?

ABOVE IN response for request for a poem to accompany a seventh wedding anniversary gift to a loving and charming wife. It is claimed the first six years of married life are the hardest. That couples reaching the the seventh anniversary still happy have an excellent chance of celebrating a golden wedding.

PASSING BY: Rocco Vocco, music publisher. A candidate to succeed Hugh Blue as president of My Name Is A Poem Club. Truly Dooley, of Providence, R. I., will also campaign for this office. In her opening speech Truly claimed President Hugh Blue's name doesn't really rhyme, and demanded he be impeached . . . Louise Groody, erstwhile musical comedy star. No doubt you remember her in "Hit The Deck." But you can't get in the Young Old Timers unless you remember her in "The Night Boat" and "No, No, Nanette." Louise was born in Waco, Tex. Also the birthplace of Texas Guinan.

POUND OF popcorn has double the food energy units found in a pound of sirloin steak. So a diet expert claims. But don't take this too seriously, lady. If you serve your hard-working husband a pound of popcorn for dinner when he expected a sirloin steak, domestic complications might ensue.

THINGS SEEN: Noted a pocket compass offered for sale at a low price. Be a nice thing to have if you had to walk home from the races at Aqueduct and got lost in Brooklyn. I also viewed an inexpensive alarm clock which wakes you up by turning on the radio. Also starts the coffee boiling. Another interesting item was a box of plastic ice cubes. Instead of freezing water in the refrigerator you just freeze the cubes. They do not dilute the drink. Then there was a small roulette wheel offered for three dollars and a half. Believe I will get one and work out a system in preparation for my next visit to Las Vegas and Reno.

ASKING: Queries from clients. Q.—A fireman is a person who builds and maintains fires as on ships and locomotives. So why refer to members of our fire departments as "firemen"? Wouldn't fire fighters be more appropriate? A.—There is something in what you say, sir. Q.—I claim there are three times as many non-union workers as union workers in the U. S. A. My husband says I am far off the beam. Help, please. A.—You're not so far off. There are about fifteen million union workers and forty million non-union workers.

WHAT, NO POTATOES? Why do some restaurants serve potatoes with an order of two fried eggs while others do not? That's what a Michigan subscriber rises to ask. He says he has found restaurants providing potatoes with fried eggs generally have better food, serve generous portions in all menu items and at reasonable prices. He adds: "I have noted places serving fried eggs minus potatoes usually slice the roast beef much thinner at luncheon and dinner time."

SAYS SHE: "It is not difficult to get a husband now," writes a young woman of San Francisco. "All a girl needs to get a rush of marriage proposals is to have a good, steady, well-paying position. Two can live cheaper than one, if the girl has a job. That is the theory of the modern young man."

LOUD LIBRARIAN: The peace and quiet of the reading room of the public library in our vicinity is frequently disturbed by a librarian with a loud, shrill, piercing voice. She should be transferred upstairs to the filing department. Librarians, telephone operators and undertakers should have low, soothing voices.

CABLE CARS: San Francisco was the first city in the world to have cable cars. These quaint vehicles began climbing the town's hills on Aug. 1, 1873. So next year will be their 75th anniversary. My first ride on a San Francisco cable car was in 1918, when I was stationed at the Presidio.

PLEASE NOTE: If an Englishman wants Scotch whisky for the Merry Yuletide season he will have to pay for it the equivalent of twenty-five to thirty-two dollars a fifth. Even so, he may have difficulty in obtaining it. Meanwhile, the liquor store windows in Manhattan are jammed with Scotch at extremely reasonable prices, some below $6 a fifth.

FEMININE PHYSICIANS: Feminine physicians are rarely the mothers of more than two children. Dr. Katherine Post Van Orden, of Alameda, Cal., was an exception. This much beloved M. D. was the mother of five children. But Dr. Van Orden was red-haired. Red-haired women rarely have less than three children.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—A palace revolution is smouldering in the Teamsters' Union of the A. F. of L., one of the great, autocratic kingdoms of the union movement. There are almost a million subjects. There is a treasury of $17,000,000, cash.

Westbrook Pegler

Strange as it may seem, Dave Beck, the most pushful aspirant for the throne of Dan Tobin, the old king, may invoke the Taft-Hartley law to promote his revolutionary ambitions, although he has damned this act as slavery law.

If Beck's political plan should succeed smoothly then a number of less prominent rival household princes and barons of outlying provinces certainly will take advantage of the Taft-Hartley Act. They will invoke its protection to secede from the big international union without reprisals.

MY USE of the royal metaphor is not an exaggeration. This union is, in the most practical effect, a monarchy and Tobin is the king. He has been president for 41 years.

He is so precious, and in the kingly manner he acknowledges his preciosity, that during his reign the constitution was amended with a special section couched in the language of royal courts, providing unlimited expense allowances for himself and his wife, and an unlimited retinue of secretaries and servants.

Tobin's self-appreciation is so great and so naive that he readily acknowledges that his successor would not be worthy of this luxurious keep. Therefore, the constitution provides that these royal conditions shall cease when his successor takes office.

THAT WOULD NOT bother Beck. Once in power, he could make his own conditions. Beck is healthy, aggressive and a hand-washing courtier in the presence of the old king. He is tough nevertheless.

In the term of the Roosevelt era he has risen from a position of local, uncertain power in Seattle to the mighty role of commercial and industrial dictator of the Northwest. There he rules as Tobin's satrap, biding his time.

He sent Mon Wallgren to the United States Senate and made him governor of Washington. Wallgren will be presented to the 1948 Democratic convention as a nominee for the Vice-Presidency as a "labor" man. Beck will be his sponsor.

By that time, Beck probably will have moved in as the executive vice-president of the International Union under a constitutional amendment which Beck himself put through the national convention in San Francisco last August.

Beck saw it through the committee and heard the old king, from his throne on the platform, steamroll the opposition.

BECK'S AMBITION to take Tobin's place has been recognized by both his following and his opponents for several years. But last winter I smoked him out with a dispatch predicting that he would try by flattery to persuade Tobin to retire on an extravagant pension and arrange for his, Beck's, election or appointment through some trick to succeed him.

The ambition to become president is legitimate, but you would have thought I had accused Beck of a felony. He said this innocent statement that he aspired to the presidency of his union was an evil slander, uncontaminated by truth.

This retort was published in the Washington Teamster, which carries Beck's name on the mast-head as president. But after all it merely said Beck would not be a candidate unless Tobin himself should nominate him.

(Editor's note: News dispatches yesterday reported that Beck had been officially named to No. 2 position in the Teamsters' Union).

Speaking of himself, in his own paper, Beck said: "There is not a trace of the ingrate in Beck; he would not know how to double-cross; his word is never broken."

PREMATURE REVELATION of his scheme forced Beck to change his plan slightly. Tobin wanted the final compliment of a single term as president of the A. F. of L.

He was expected, in that case, to turn over all his duties and powers, except his final veto power, to Beck and devote his year as president of the A. F. of L. to speeches about his own great services to "labor." But political troubles intervened in the A. F. of L. and Tobin was thwarted. Therefore, Beck brought in the constitutional amendment creating the position of executive vice-president with plenary powers, subject only to Tobin's veto.

It is expected that Tobin will name Beck to the job on Dec. 1. The salary is up to Tobin. It probably will be $25,000 and liberal, but limited expenses. Beck's amendment does not even require that the new sub-dictator shall be a member of the union.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, TUESDAY, NOV. 25, 1947

Hollywood

By Louella O. Parsons

EN ROUTE TO HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25—When someone asked cute little Wanda Hendrix if she and Audie Murphy, the most decorated war hero, were going to get married she said: "We haven't arrived at the psychological moment to discuss that"—whatever that means!

Well—psychological moment or not—Wanda continues zooming along on the Paramount lot, getting official star billing with Claude Rains in "Abigail, Dear Heart." It's a sentimental story of a young girl, married to an older man, and although MacDonald Carey comes along to complicate things, it isn't one of those triangle affairs.

Wanda Hendrix

I thought when I saw Wanda in "Ride the Pink Horse" that she was one of the freshest and most talented of the newcomers. That girl is going places in a big way.

WELL, HERE I AM on my way back home. In many ways this was the best visit I have ever had although there's always the feeling I have missed seeing some of my old friends.

I want to thank everyone who did so much to make my visit such a success. I worked hard, played hard, but what a rest I'll get on the dear old Santa Fe.

The outstanding event of my visit was meeting Cardinal Spellman. I came away feeling spiritually uplifted. He's a wonderful man, so kind, so understanding, so brilliant and so human. Close to his heart are the poor, starving children of Europe. He's doing everything he can to see that they are fed and clothed.

"THE PURSUIT of Love," the Nancy Mitford book, goes into production next spring, and Charlie Einfeld is trying to get Dorothy McGuire for the lead. After "Gentleman's Agreement," Dorothy is sought by every studio. She's still under joint contract to David Selznick and 20th Century-Fox, however.

Charlie, with a new bankroll and a new standing following the box office success of "Body and Soul," returned to the Coast with his partner, David Loew. Their next picture is "Wild Calendar," starring Ginger Rogers and Glenn Ford. They're also getting "The Passion of Eugene Aran" ready for Charles Boyer.

"Body and Soul" gave Enterprise a shot in the arm, and one they certainly needed right about now.

JOSE FERRER could write his own ticket in Hollywood after he finishes "Joan" with Ingrid Bergman. But he doesn't want to stay there.

Instead, he goes to Italy to star in and direct Pietro Di Donato's story, "Christ in Concrete," which is being produced by Rod Geiger, the man who did "Open City"—the best of the Italian movies. The last I heard, Luise Rainer also was going to be in "Christ in Concrete."

I hear Ferrer chose this offer in preference to Hollywood bids because he wanted to direct for a long time.

Funny, isn't it, that this story which has a Brooklyn background can be made cheaper in Italy.

CELESTE HOLM, who returns to the stage for the month of December in the role of Ado Annie in "Oklahoma," is very smart, I think. She tells me she won't let herself get stale on types and feels that returning to Broadway even for a short time will give her a chance to get close to her audience.

I am not surprised that her favorite role is the one in "Gentleman's Agreement," for which she received such flattering notices.

THIS WIRE came just as I caught the train:

"DEAR L. O. P.: We've been doing some whirling of our own out here—topped by the fabulously beautiful Winter Ball. Before the festivities in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel were over, George Murphy, who M. C.'d, announced that $25,000 had been raised for St. John's Hospital.

"What a night!

"The gowns and jewels were out of this world. Claudette Colbert in black lace, Jeanette MacDonald in pink lace, the pretty little Duchess of Montoro in black satin and WHAT pearls, Merle Oberon with chignon of flowers at her neck, Kitty Leroy in white, Rosalind Russell looking like a flame, Lorena Danker in pink lavender satin, Janet Gaynor Adrian, Mrs. Robert Young, Eddie Goetz, Mrs. Peter Rathvon were just a few of the belles to particularly catch our eye.

"Bing sang a medley of his most popular tunes of all time, with special lyrics telling how much St. John's needed this new wing. But, right here, let's give a big hand to Kay Kyser, who is not of the Catholic faith, but who worked like a trojan to put over the party.

"Jack Benny's hillbilly routine, Dorothy Lamour's songs and Danny Thomas' comedy helped make this a glamor night of nights.

"THE GANG."

Helena Carter

Helena Carter hurried back to the Coast the minute she learned George Raft was arriving in town on his way to Europe. Reason, up to now Helena was successful in avoiding making personal appearances for "Intrigue," the picture she had with Raft. She was afraid that George might try to talk her into it. I know that Sam Bischoff and United Artists have been very unlucky in convincing the Carter girl.

Gladys Swarthout's husband, Frank Chapman, is going into the producing business. He will bring "Moll Flanders" to the stage in January. It's a musical, and Deems Taylor is composing the score.

Walking from the Plaza to the Stork, we met Bunny Waters and Johnny Green on Fifth ave. They told me it was their wedding anniversary and the two of them had had dinner together. Johnny told me he had been called East by the death of his mother.

Mrs. Humphrey Bogart, in a fluffy dress, one of the few I have ever seen "Baby" wear, was at the Stork with Bogey and the Paul Zuckermans (Ruth Taylor). Baby told me she had bought her dress in Brooklyn. They had been to see Paul Kelly in "Command Performance" and were glad, as all of us are, over Paul's Broadway triumph.

The RKO studio club players are putting on "Out of the Frying Pan" at the Las Palmas playhouse to raise money for Christmas baskets.

Ann Sheridan and Steve Hannagan in the Cub Room as devoted as ever. Sometimes I wonder if Ann and Steve aren't secretly Mr. and Mrs. in spite of their denials.

Marjorie Reynolds sails for London today for the star role in "Burlesque" on the stage there.

BUDDY ROGERS, graying a little since his film and band-leader days, is still a heart-throb for the fair sex. Buddy told us yesterday at the Statler that most big films are tested now by "reactograph" . . . The Reactograph Co. provides 100 spectators for a preview. They hold thumb-buttons in each hand, and their reactions are registered on a tape. When the tape shows a low reaction to a scene, that scene is cut out . . . Buddy is co-producer, with his wife Mary Pickford, of "Sleep, My Love," to be shown in Boston next month. Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche are in it, but Buddy said: "Watch the performance of Robert Cummings" . . . "Never liked to see myself on the screen," he said. And Boston movie men told how they sat him down in the Met years ago, to see himself and Nancy Carroll in "Follow Through," and Buddy howled: "Say, do I have to sit through this?" . . . Today, a Victory Medal for Buddy (a wartime lieutenant commander) at Chelsea Naval Hospital. For Navy enlistees, a hop in Buddy's plane.

Washington Scene

By George Dixon

Copyright, 1947, King Features Synd., Inc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25—Heading in the Federal Register, Bible of bureaucrats: "Small lots of property peculiar to aircraft."

They may be peculiar to aircraft but they look perfectly natural to us.

As a prelude to his testimony that he had carried on a five-year affair with his young secretary with her husband's acquiescence, Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers said he was about to "drop to a new low." He certainly made good on his promise.

Humphrey Bogart, who headed a delegation of uninvited movie people to Washington for purposes which are still being debated, is now quoted as saying:

"I'm about as much in favor of Communists as J. Edgar Hoover."

Hoover undoubtedly will be pleased at being classed with such choice company.

PAGE 533 of the Congressional Quarterly, under the heading "Party Unity in the Senate," carries this piece of crypticism:

"Correction: For 'vacancy' read 'Hoey.' For 'Hoey' read 'Umstead.'

Doesn't seem to go far enough. How about: "For 'Umstead' read 'Out to lunch'."

The thing has infinite possibilities, if you are a little weak in the head. For instance: "For 'Senator Pepper' read 'Closed for alterations.'"

AFTER DIGESTING the President's message to Congress in which Mr. Truman offered a 10-step plan to fight the high cost of living, Mr. Larry Smith, the oil man, observed:

"If rationing is restored the President will be better off than the rest of us because he has 10 points already."

As his 5th point, Mr. Truman urged Congress to: "authorize measures which will induce the marketing of livestock and poultry at weights and grades that represent the most efficient use of grain."

Well, I am no livestock dietician although admirers have been heard to say that I eat like a pig. But I wonder if it is practical for farmers to install diet kitchens in their barnyards and weigh the stock after each meal?

Suppose, for instance, a hog refused to watch his calories and got overweight by marketing day? Mild calisthenics might be suggested but a pig always feels silly swinging Indian clubs. And it'd be just the farmer's tough luck for the Countess Cassini to be too busy to come around and instruct his pigs in the nine-day miracle diet.

A MAJOR PROBLEM that faces our returning Congress is what to do with Henry Wallace's bust. I am speaking literally.

A bust of the former vice-president, chiseled in white marble, is now ready for installation in some niche of the Capitol with appropriate dedication ceremonies. But the fury that is likely to be precipitated makes the timid soul shudder.

It is an issue that cannot be avoided because the law specifically requires that Congress shall provide a bust of each vice-president and place it in a prominent spot.

Not even the New Dealers wish to go to bat in this matter because Henry had few friends on Capitol Hill at the best of times and was generally unpopular. Nowadays a congressman who finds himself even saying the name "Wallace" is afraid he will have his mouth washed out with soap and water.

The bust was chiseled by Jo Davidson, the bearded "liberal" whom we can only describe as a voluble member of the Wallace set. Davidson was personally chosen by Wallace to do the sculpting which shows that, even in those circles, they throw a little profitable business to each other wherever possible.

CAPITOL ARCHITECT David Lynn revealed he had written to Sculptor Davidson telling him to ship the bust down here anyway, to wait congressional action. I have often wondered how Wallace would look in a crate.

The problem will have to be faced by the joint congressional sub-committee on the library, an offshoot of the rules committee, but no member of Congress wants to stick his neck out first.

I wish I could tell you where Senator William E. Jenner, of Indiana, chairman of the committee, suggests the bust be installed but I know it would never pass our editorial censors.

Revives Facial Loveliness

NEVER has a revived fashion caught on with such thrilling and willing acceptance as the Gibson Girl look. The young in years and the young in figure have taken to its grace and charm with the approval it so richly deserves. This Henry Rosenfeld original in very fashionable moire . . . influenced, of course, by the Gibson Girl style . . . has long, tight sleeves, tiny collar and sleek bodice to play up to its whirling, wonderful skirt . . . And Boston has it. Want to know where?—R. M.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

AS WE'VE ALWAYS MAINTAINED . . . there's a compensation for everything in life . . . beauty and fashion included. Designers dropped the hemlines to deny the boys their lingering glances at lovely limbs . . . but for spring they'll compensate the loss with lower, barer necklines. Could it be the Christian Dior influence again? Could be, indeed!

But don't scowl at me! Like the gypsy, we're only telling you "what the future holds in store." We are not patty-caking for joy at this particular moment, either.

No longer just for formal hours . . . uncovered shoulders and chests will come out for daytime in the new spring fashions.

Reflecting her belief in lower, barer necklines . . . Jo Copeland's spring designs for Pattullo Modes (shown a few days ago) have gone all out in neckline news. Her dresses emphasize a tremendous variety of neckline decolletes . . . some opened up, open out from shoulder to shoulder, cut in wide squares, scooped out in rounded outlines, shaped in deep V's. Practically all of her dresses are practically sleeveless . . . with the barest of covering topping the shoulder . . . in a very new, forward-looking trend.

And this is apparently going to be a very strong trend . . . for blouses, too, are going the same way of the dropped neckline.

HAVE A YOUNGER-LOOKING SKIN

Which brings me to suggest . . . but quickly . . . a cosmetic treatment for making that exposed expanse fitting foil for this heralded feminine exposure . . . making the skin of the neck and shoulders sufficiently young-looking to be companionable to this new vogue. A new liquid form of an old cosmetic friend has just been marketed . . . unquestionably planned to meet fashion, at least, halfway. It can be a fabulous fluid of loveliness for achieving the kind of loveliness fashion expects to impose on women for spring.

Because this liquid oils blend translated the science of lipoids . . . which are vital substances essential to living skin cells . . . it will aid you to have a younger-looking skin. The lipoids will be quicky absorbed by the skin to aid the function of the skin . . . and thereby aid in the correction of dryness, roughness, lines or lack of firm contours.

Don't use it only on your face . . . use it on your body, especially your neck and shoulders, hands and arms . . . where beauty must be written to underwrite your acceptance of fashion.

For the name of this new fluid of loveliness, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 2-4000, any day except Sunday, or write to me, care of the Boston American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

THERE will be no covering up for spring . . . either in beauty or fashion. With the lower, barer neckline coming into fashion being . . . and daytime view . . . there's nothing left for a woman but to quickly rediscover femininity. New in beauty care to match the new in fashion daytime decolletage is a new oil of liquid lipoids to bring young-looking skin beauty for hands, shoulders, neck and face!

Thanksgiving Dainties

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

THE THINGS WHICH MAKE a Thanksgiving dinner unusually good and extra festive are the little personal touches which the cook herself adds to the menu. You can work wonders on the over-all appearance of your table with garnishes. Use those which are colorful, simple and above all edible.

For his majesty, the turkey, nothing could be more gay and special than golden canned cling peach halves filled with a ruby red cranberry and almond filling. Canned peaches are ready to use just the way they come from the can. You may use either canned or fresh cranberry sauce. Arrange chilled blanched almonds with the cranberry sauce. Arrange chilled and drained peach halves, cup side up, on the serving platter alongside the turkey. Then place a spoonful of the cranberry-almond sauce in each peach cup. They make a most delicious accompaniment.

And here are some salad suggestions for your holiday meal. The first is a Ruby Banana Mold. The fresh fruity flavor of trat cranberry blends itself right in with that of the banana to give a salad worthy of the occasion. Serve it in a large mold, in individual molds, or let it jell in a square cake pan, then cut into squares for the salad plate.

RUBY BANANA MOLD

1 1-lb. can jellied cranberry sauce.
1 envelope plain gelatin.
½ cup cold water.
2 bananas.

Crush cranberry sauce with a fork. Soak gelatin in ¼ cup water 5 minutes. Place cup in a pan of hot water and heat until gelatin mixture melts (becomes transparent). Stir into crushed cranberry sauce. Mash one banana with a fork and stir into cranberry gelatin mixture. Pour into desired mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill until firm. Unmold onto lettuce leaves. Cut second banana into slices and use to garnish Ruby Banana Mold. Makes 6 servings.

CRANBERRY ORANGE SALAD

2 oranges (1 for garnish)
1 1-lb. can jellied cranberry sauce
1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water

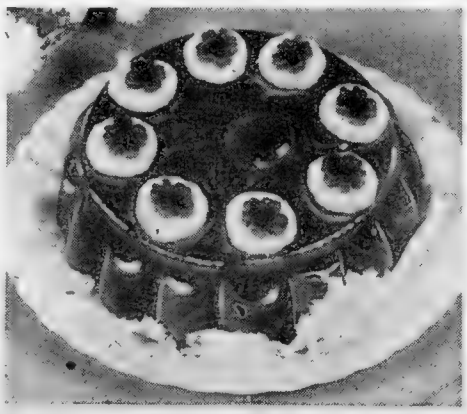
Soak gelatin in cold water 5 minutes and dissolve over hot water. Grind one orange (rind and all) in food chopper. Add crushed cranberry sauce. Add dissolved gelatin to cranberry orange mixture. Spoon into 6 individual salad molds and chill in refrigerator until firm. When firm, unmold. With a knife cut 3 grooves into mold, being careful not to cut through to center of mold. Cut ¼ inch orange slice into thirds and insert in grooves of cranberry mold—spoke fashion. Top with bit of cranberry sauce and serve in lettuce cups with mayonnaise.

Plan on winding up your Thanksgiving dinner this year with a light fruity dessert. Nectar Mint Ice Cream is refreshing and yet has a definite party flavor.

NECTAR MINT ICE CREAM

2 eggs
1-3 cup granulated sugar
⅛ cup light corn syrup
Few grains salt
1 cup apricot whole fruit nectar
1 cup table cream
1 tsp. lemon juice
2 to 3 drops mint extract

Separate eggs. Beat yolks with sugar, corn syrup and salt. Add nectar, cream, lemon juice and flavoring, and stir to blend. Pour into freezing tray, place in freezing compartment with control set at lowest temperature and freeze until firm. Remove to chilled bowl and beat with rotary beater until smooth and fluffy. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Return to freezing compartment and freeze to desired consistency. Reset temperature control to normal. Makes about 1½ pints.



RUBY BANANA MOLD

Girl's Mother Dislikes Him

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: About four months ago I met a girl I hadn't seen since our schooldays. She is 17 and I am 20. I have been going steady with her since then and we love each other very much.

Her mother, however, has forbidden me to see her again. I really don't know what she has against me, but it can't be much. Should I forget this girl, as I don't want her to have trouble with her family?

"ROY"

Dear "Roy":

When you don't know what a person has against you, it is always smart to ask. Have you tried this direct approach with your girl's mother? Perhaps if you just politely and tactfully asked her permission to take her daughter out, she would be caught off-guard and be reasonable before she knew it. Or, you might begin a subtle little campaign of playing up to the mother, coming to the house with some flowers for her occasionally, and making a point of talking with her. Few women can resist the flattery of personal attention from a man, even though the man is much younger than they are.

I certainly wouldn't stop going with this girl unless there is some better reason than that you have given me. Most mothers can be won over, if the right methods are used.

Softer, Prettier Suits Popular

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

THE SIMPLE little suit that makes a woman's life complete is a softer, prettier little suit this season. Nothing essential has been changed; this year's suit can still go to the market in the morning and to a matinee in the afternoon. The only difference is that now, as it goes about on its various rounds, more heads turn to admire it.

The change is seen in a new gentleness of line. Proportion has returned. No one line shoves out aggressively at the expense of another. Fabrics are softer. The hard-finish worsteds have gone back to the men's department, and the fleecy, deep-pile wools that women love have taken their place. Colors are prettier. Muted tones of the high colors, black lightened to oxford with a few white threads, brown made brighter with amber highlights, all prove the new importance of color.

The suit designed by Hattie Carnegie and sketched today is made of rose tweed flecked with brown, woven in a diamond pattern. The skirt is straight. The classic three-button jacket, of medium length, buttons rather high to small lapels.

Too Many Beggars In Hub, Says Judge

Judge Charles L. Carr today filed a case against a 46-year-old Brighton man charged with receiving contributions of money in a public street without a license and seized the opportunity to deplore the number of beggars in the city.

"An Italian professor friend of mine told me," said Carr "that there are more beggars between Scollay sq. and the Common than anywhere in the city of Rome. Do we want the streets of Boston filled with beggars? There are other ways of taking care of these people."

The judge filed the case after the Brighton man promised to "cease his operations." When arrested last week, police said they found his was carrying $402 in bills plus a few dollars in change. The man said he worked three hours a day and averaged $10 for that period.

BC-HC Sellout; Riopel Predicts Crusaders Win

By JACK CONWAY

"THERE WILL BE 41,860 persons at the Boston College-Holy Cross game on Saturday," replied Charley Sands, right eye to Billy Sullivan of the Braves' publicity staff, in reply to my question.

"How much does that mean in money?" I queried.

"The box seats sold for $4.80, while the grandstand seats, those seats in the field stands and in the right field pavilion went for $3.60. There were some tickets sold in the jury box in right field and in the unobstructed area of the first base pavilion for $1.80. The average price was $3.60 for the 41,860 seats."

"Wait a minute, Charley," I said, "until I multiply 41,860 by $3.60. The answer is $150,596."

"Do the Braves get 15 per cent for rental?"

"I cannot answer that question," said Charley.

"That is usually the percentage cut for rental on big games," I went on. "There would first be the 20 per cent for federal taxes which would amount to a bit over $30,000. Then the 15 per cent for rental which would be about $18,000. This would leave B.C. and H.C. a shade over $100,000 to divide according to their agreement on this game.

"It is a home game for H.C. this year which may give them a shade in the division of the spoils, but with $100,000 in the pot there will be enough money for the athletic departments of both institutions."

"Any tickets to be bought at Braves Field, Charley?"

"I haven't seen a ticket around here for over three weeks," was the quick response. "The game is a solid sell-out."

Riopel Picks Holy Cross to Win

HOP RIOPEL, assistant coach to Ox DaGrosa, declared he believes H.C. will win.

"Our club is at the top of its game right now and it will defeat B.C. on Saturday," said Riopel. "Everything we did went right in the Fordham game last Saturday. If our players do as well against B.C., and there is no reason to believe they will not do so, we shall end our season on Saturday with a victory."

Riopel asserted Holy Cross' allotment of tickets was sold.

"The student body and alumni will give the Crusaders their full support," asserted Riopel. "Worcester will move right down to Braves Field on Saturday."

Riopel stated when queried prior to the announcement of DaGrosa's resignation he did not have any information on whether DaGrosa was going to return to Holy Cross next fall.

The life of a football coach is a precarious one. A coach must win to retain his job with most colleges.

This is why some of the better coaches like to move to a new spot when they are at the top of a victory wave. Earl Blaik went from Dartmouth to the Army when he had a first class team at Hanover.

"The time to take on a new job is when everyone agrees you are good," Blaik said at the time with a chuckle.

DaGrosa had been under terrific fire at Holy Cross, but he held for a long time.

Plenty of Money to Ride With HC

THERE WILL be plenty of money wagered on H.C. to beat B.C. After B.C.'s game with LSU, it would have been a different story. Coach Denny Myers then had a red hot team. Defeats by Tennessee and Wake Forest and a colorless showing against St. Mary's has taken some of the fire out of the B.C. rooters.

There will be no talk about a bowl game as B.C. and H.C. go on the field Saturday. It will be merely a case of two famous traditional rivals being eager to finish their seasons with a victory.

Most wagering is at even money. The public will not even make a favorite.

Hannegan Quits Cabinet To Take Over Cardinals

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Post master General Robert E. Hannegan resigned today to become affiliated with a group purch asing the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team of the National League. President Truman n amed Jesse M. Donaldson, now first assistant postmaster general, to succeed Hannegan whose resignation is effective Dec. 1.

JOHN "OX" DAGROSA

Mr. Truman returns to private life the man who was credited with a major part in obtaining Mr. Truman's nomination as vice president on the successful Roosevelt-Truman Democratic ticket in 1944. Mr. Truman succeeded to the Presidency upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt in April, 1945.

In October, Hannegan retired as Democratic National Chairman, giving reasons of health, and was succeeded by Sen. J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island.

According to these unconfirmed but persistent reports, Breadon will sell his holdings for a price said to range from $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 to a group of men headed by Postmaster General Robert E. Hannegan of St. Louis, the movie magnate brothers, Charles, George and Spyros Skouras; Edwin W. Pauley, California oil man, and Sidney Salomon, Jr., St. Louis insurance man. The Skouras brothers are former St. Louisians.

Giving credence to Hannegan's reported connection with the deal is the fact that only recently he resigned as a member of the board of directors of the St. Louis Browns.

SAM BREADON

H. C. SMOKER

Denny Myers and John "Ox" Da Grosa, rival coaches respectively of Boston College and Holy Cross, will give their pregame impressions of Saturday's Jesuit classic at a smoker to be held in the Harvard Club Friday night by the Holy Cross Club of Boston.

Coach Jim Moran of Niagara University, a Holy Cross alumnus, will commiserate with Myers and Da Grosa, his team having completed its season last Saturday. Atty. Thomas Casey of Lowell will be master of ceremonies.

Fans Want Osmanski As HC Coach

WORCESTER, Nov. 25 (INS)—The name of Bill Osmanski, former Holy Cross star fullback, led fan nominations today for the Crusader coaching berth, resigned by John "Ox" DaGrosa.

Osmanski, known as "Bullet Bill" in his playing days, gained All-America recognition. He was one of the greatest backs in Holy Cross football history.

He is 30. He has played seven years of pro football with the Chicago Bears. Osmanski recently was named assistant coach of the Bears.

Friends said he was anxious to start practicing dentistry. He finished his dental training in Chicago while playing for the Bears just before he joined the Navy for wartime service. It was reported he now is anxious to return to Worcester, near his Providence, R. I., home, to set up his practice.

Athletic Director Gene Flynn said no move would be made to replace DaGrosa "for at least another week" after the Boston College game. Others mentioned as possible successors to DaGrosa included:

Hugh Devore, coach of St. Bonaventure's, former mentor of Providence College and of the wartime teams at Notre Dame while Frank Leahy was in the Navy.

Herb Kopf, former Boston Yanks coach, and his assistant with that team, Johnny Dell Isola, now line coach of the Dartmouth Indians.

Melrose High School Coach Dave Gavin, former Crusader star, whose best known products, the Sheridan brothers, likewise starred for the Cross.

S. M. U. Loses Star End For Rest of Season

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 25 (AP)—Grady Martin, lanky second string end, suffered a torn cartilage in his knee and will be lost to Southern Methodist for the remainder of the season. His was the only serious injury in the Baylor game.

Martin, who has another season of eligibility in both football and basketball, will undergo an operation tomorrow.

Victoryless Carnegie Tech Stays Small-Time

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25 (AP)—Carnegie Tech, which nine years ago played in the Sugar Bowl, will never return to big-time football because "the only way to maintain a Class A team is to sacrifice education," Tech President Robert T. Doherty declared today.

Doherty told some 3500 students at the annual Carnegie Day celebration:

"We cannot have both Class A football and professional education unles swe set football up as a sideshow with special educational programs for the squad. This we will not do!"

The 1947 Tech football team, recruited mostly from engineering students whose last class ends at 4:30 in the afternoon, did not win a game this year. However, it was an improvement over the 1946 squad, which also did not score a point.

Dr. Doherty expressed satisfaction with the current athletic program and said:

"We can have football and other intercollegiate sports on a modest scale, and win our share of the games when playing schools of comparable strength and similar educational ideals."

Expect 250,000 Fans in Philly

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 (AP)—An estimated quarter of a million fans will see three top gridiron attractions in Philadelphia this holiday weekend.

A sellout throng of more than 100,000 will jam Municipal Stadium Saturday for the Army-Navy Classic, while Penn's traditional turkey day clash with Cornell will lure 80,000 into Franklin Field and the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia professional game perhaps 40,000 Sunday at Shibe Park.

Penn will be shooting for its first undefeated season in 39 years against Cornell, while the Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game will go a long way toward determining the eastern division championship of the National Football League.

HOLY CROSS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR BAITS MYERS AT WRITERS' LUNCHEON

By BILL GRIMES

In reference to the coming Boston College-Holy Cross game, Reggie Brown, the veteran scout who has made some excellent predictions this fall, stated during the writers' luncheon "the team which makes the fewer mistakes will win."

A few minutes prior to Brown's summation, Head Coach Denny Myers had declared, "The Boston College—Holy Cross game is never anything but a tossup."

Gene Flynn, athletic director at "The Cross" had baited the trap for Myers and Brown by stating "We've been the underdogs going into BC games for five years. We like being shortenders. In fact, the players are used to that role. But we'll be up and we'll make a good showing."

The scribes were at the luncheon to get some first hand information on Saturday's classic. But, aside from the above remarks, they didn't get anything but double talk.

Flynn, pinch hitting for "Ox" Da Grosa who remained in Worcester to tender his resignation, opened by recalling a remark made Sunday at Fenway Park by Myers, when they met before the pro game.

After Flynn had jokingly greeted the Eagles' coach with "We'll show up on Saturday," Myers' comeback was "Yes, and probably too damn well."

Then, Flynn called attention to the fine work of Holy Cross substitutes against Fordham. After which he said, "How many of them we'll use against BC, I don't know." Then, the underdog routine.

From the statement he made "it strikes me as very peculiar that a team that comes here and beats us as often as Holy Cross has is always the underdog," it was apparent that Myers does not relish the fact that his Eagles are the favorites.

Brown displayed some fast foot work when he was asked: "Will Holy Cross use the single wing or the 'T'?"

"Single wing when they run and 'T' when they pass," was his retort.

Brown did get serious at the end of his short talk, for he said, "BC must have a variation of defenses to stop Holy Cross."

Denny Myers hit the nail on the head when he stated that Saturday's game is a tossup.

College football squads seem to get a great lift when the experts select them as underdogs. Frequently, the reverse is true when they are picked as the favorites.

The Crusaders were favored to beat Dartmouth and Harvard. In our opinion, they should have won those games by wide margins. They were tied by the Big Green and lost to Harvard because they read and believed the newspapers. They were capable of playing far better football than they showed in the opening game at Fitton Field and in the Harvard Stadium. It is a great break for Holy Cross to be rated by the experts, so called, as shortenders against the Eagles. They'll have a double incentive on Saturday—beat the Eagles and show up the experts.

As stated above, Myers is far from pleased because his Eagles are rated as the favorites. It was overconfidence that cost Boston College the Tennessee game. The experts insisted that the Eagles would breeze through the Vols and qualify for a bowl bid.

Pics Face Stiff Test; 5 Tilts in as Many Days

By JERRY LYNCH

It would be more than appropriate if the Olympics change their team name to "grasshoppers."

The Pics play five games in as many days starting tomorrow when they open at Baltimore, for immediately following the game, they jump back to Boston to engage Ottawa Thursday, bounce to Atlantic City on Friday and hop back to the Hub for Saturday night and Sunday afternoon games with the Valleyfield Braves and the Atlantic City Sea Gulls.

Participating in two leagues, the Pics will be extremely busy for the rest of the season. This week's schedule exemplifies how well their date book is filled. They play three Eastern League games and a duo against Quebec Senior League opponents.

Coach Hago Harrington and his crew appear at the Garden Thursday night to tangle with the league leading Ottawa Senators who are rated as the best team outside the ranks of the N. H. L. To date the Senators from the Quebec League hold two decisions over the Pics.

With Eddie Barry, clever play maker, fully recuperated from his heel injury, the Pics will be at full strength for their rugged test.

Cannon Mountain Ready for Big Ski Season

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

FRANCONIA, N. H., Nov. 25—Keeping pace with the rapid strides of skiing, much work has been done during the summer at the lofty "schuss center" that is Cannon Mountain, in preparation for the thousands of skiers who will soon enjoy their sport on the spider web of trails and slopes here. As a matter of fact, ski tracks already stipple the ribbons of white, but the tramway will not resume operation until next month.

The steep, wide Hardscrabble Trail is now completed, and bids fair to be one of the most superb slalom sweeps in the East, plunging like a waterfall to the valley below. A new section roars off the old upper part, joining what was called the "wind tunnel" on the lower stretches. By using the Taft Slalom Slope and the Hardscrabble, 'twill be possible to hold a giant slalom race of longer than a mile, with a vertical drop of almost 1500 feet. Racers may attain speed of nearly a mile-a-minute on this run.

For recreational skiers, the popular Ravine Trail has been graded and many of the corners widened, which should delight the average stem-winder. Under expert survey by Sel Hannah and Ed Blood, former Olympic skiers, all the trails have been scrutinized, with the view of future development. A new by-pass from the Ravine to Cannon Trail has been constructed, eliminating rocky sections.

Since recent approval by the Governor and Council, a crew of 15 men has been slashing out the slalom glade adjoining the present Valley Station practice slope. This glade has a vertical drop of about 500 feet, 1500 feet in length, and 60 feet wide, and will be serviced by a rope tow. The layout should please intermediate skiers.

QUICK CHRISTIES: The summit station, too, has had its face lifted, for the old sun deck has been closed in to allow a larger lobby, flanked by huge windows. The fireplace has been shifted to this site, with a bench around it on which to prepare for that next run.

The Cannon Mountain Ski Patrol will be headed by Austin "Sonny" McAuley, as in the past, aided by Jim Dudley, Don Eastman, Bob Finn, Wes Talbot, and Hal Bailey.

Rematch Stars Of Last Pure Card

Middleweights Charlie Italiano, U. S. Navy, and Ray Marston, Haverhill—involved in a slugfest last week—will be back at Mechanics Building next Saturday night as the South End A. C. conducts another in its series of amateur boxing programs.

Italiano, a Diamond Belt champion in New York city, is favored on the decision in that last meeting.

Chi Bout For Priest

By JACK CONWAY, JR.

Al "Red" Priest lost the decision to Ralph Zanelli in his vain attempt to regain the middleweight championship of New England but he still had a flicker of a smile left. For Johnnie Buckley, his manager, was holding a signed contract in his hand for the Cambridge redhead to fight Anton Raadik on Dec. 4 in Chicago.

Johnnie was unusually quiet after the Zanelli win. "I thought we won it," he said. That's all he said. Except for a comment that, "We are getting a pretty good ticket for the Raadik fight."

"Raadik is not in Chicago," said Matty Norton, who will make the westward trip. "He looked pretty good a while ago as he knocked Marcel Cerdan to the canvas three times. Raadik lost the decision but those three knockdowns won him a big following.

The Providence, N. E., champion, Ralph Zanelli, is an amazing oldster. He is 32 years of age. In our scorebook, he won the fight by a fair margin. Judge Jim Carrig was the lone dissenter. Jim voted a draw. Joe Santarpio and referee Johnny Martin saw the fight for Zanelli.

The weather man dictated the crowd. The official count of 7121 persons, paying a $15,183 net, was disappointing. The outburst of rain cost the fight club close to $7000 at the box office.

The fight was a good one but hardly sensational. Priest was the better boxer, but Zanelli hit harder and was cute as a fox.

Buddy Hayes is ready, once more for the ring wars. He has been pronounced physically fit by the Mass. State Boxing Commission. Buddy has been on the shelf since Oct. 20, when he was knocked out by Pat Brady at the Garden.

Complete X-rays have been taken by the commission. Dr. Isaac Klein stated yesterday that "Brady is in perfect shape and ready to fight."

Buddy has always been a great fight favorite in and around Boston. His first effort will be against Ticky Milozzi in Salem on Tuesday, Dec. 2. Milozzi has KO'd Tommy Greb twice.

Johnny Shkor is off to New York today. He will fight Enrico Filepe, Italian importation, at Jamaica tomorrow night . . . Jack Buckley, Jr., will manage Shkor on the trip . . . Pat Brady and Jackie Weber are matched for Providence on Dec. 15 . . . Brady won the last one and it was very close.

Spagnola Meets Clark In Salem Feature

Dullio Spagnola, heavyweight champion of Italy, will appear in Salem for the first time when he meets Lenny Clark, Philadelphia, in the feature 10-rounder at the North St. Arena.

CT. GETS TOUGH

The fact that the Mass. Boxing Commission saw fit to revoke the license of one fighter and suspend the licenses of eight more at a meeting yesterday seems to have had some effect on the Connecticut commission.

In a fight held last night at New Britain, Ct., Ref. Hughie Devling saw fit to order two preliminary contestants from the ring for "not trying." The boys were Johnny Clark, 162, Hartford, and Clarence Wilkinson, 165, New York.

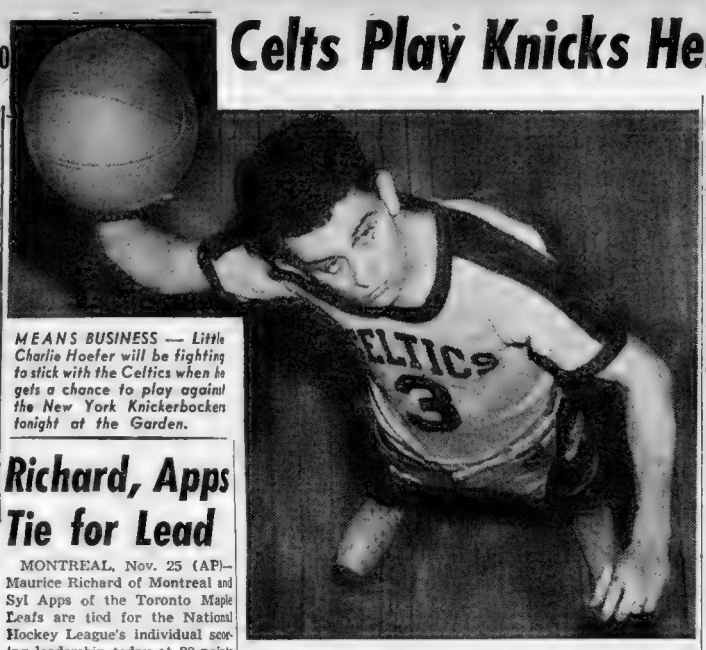
Celts Play Knicks Here Tonight



MEANS BUSINESS — Little Charlie Hoefer will be fighting to stick with the Celtics when he gets a chance to play against the New York Knickerbockers tonight at the Garden.

By SAM BROGNA

Second place in the Eastern division of the Basketball Association of America will be the objective of the Boston Celtics when they meet the New York Knickerbockers at the Garden tonight at 9 o'clock. In the preliminary contest, Roxbury Neighborhood House will play the Bevilacqua Club of Boston at 7:30.

Although the Celts are still seeking their first home win in four tries, they are only half a game behind the Knicks. The locals' ability to win on the road where they posted their three victories in seven games to date, have kept them right behind the New Yorkers who have broken even in six starts.

Leading the invaders into the North Station depot is Joe Lapchick, the former college coach who rejected a flat, five-figure salary to return as coach of St. John's, and famed as a member of the original Celtics.

Joe deserted the college ranks last spring after compiling one of the best records in the land because, to put it in his own words, "the pro game has put on long pants and is ready to go."

During his 11 years at St. John's, Lapchick's teams came up with a 170-47 record and a 9-6 tournament slate, including two national invitation championships.

When the Knicks signed him at a salary in the neighborhood of $15,000 per year, it was generally believed to be the highest including collegiate salaries.

After taking straight decisions from Washington (80-65); St. Louis (73-67), and Providence (87-69), the Knicks slowed down to a walk being forced to retreat before Chicago (63-81), Baltimore (56-68) and Philadelphia (78-83).

Like the Celtics, the invaders have undergone many changes. Seven holdovers are back, Tom Byrnes, Leo Gottlieb, Sonny Hertsberg, Lee Knorek, John Palmer, Bill Van Breda Kolff and Stan Stutz. From the college ranks, Lapchick argumented this group with Utah's Wat Misaka, Colgate's Carl Braun, Montana State's Ray Kuka, Kentucky's Paul Noel and Southern Methodist's Tom Tomlinson.

FALCO BOXES SMITH

Tony Falco, Hartford, Ct., will face George Smith, New York, in the Providence Auditorium tonight over the 10-round route. Both are welterweights.

Notre Dame No. 1 Again

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Notre Dame has regained the No. 1 spot among the nation's football teams from Michigan after another nip-and-tuck battle in the weekly Associated Press football writers poll.

The Fighting Irish and the Rose Bowl-bound Wolverines are separated by only 30 points although Notre Dame drew 97 first place votes to 81 for Michigan of the 192 cast.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

1—Notre Dame (97)	1795
2—Michigan (81)	1765
3—Southern Methodist (6)	1365
4—Southern California (3)	1237
5—Penn State (1)	1109

Richard, Apps Tie for Lead

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (AP)—Maurice Richard of Montreal and Syl Apps of the Toronto Maple Leafs are tied for the National Hockey League's individual scoring leadership today at 20 points apiece.

Apps who enjoyed a five point bulge over Richard a week ago, picked up only one point during the week's play while the great right-winger of the Canadiens garnered five goals and an assist to pull into a tie.

Two Detroit Red Wing youngsters, Jim McFadden and Ted Lindsay went on a scoring rampage during the week to pull into a third place deadlock, one point behind the co-leaders.

The duo, who were not among the top ten a week ago, each scored nine points with McFadden picking up three goals Saturday and five assists Sunday.

Apps and Lindsay also are tied for goal-getting honors at 11 apiece while Richard, McFadden, Toe Blake of Montreal and Milt Schmidt and Don Gallagher of Boston are snarled for the lead in assists at 10 each.

Brimsek has allowed 28 goals in 14 games for a 2.00 average while Montreal's Bill Durnan has registered the most shutouts, two.

The leading scorers:

	G	A	Pts
Apps, Toronto	11	9	20
Richard, Montreal	10	10	20
Lindsay, Detroit	11	8	19
McFadden, Detroit	9	10	19
Lach, Montreal	8	8	16

Berardino Quits Game For Hollywood Contract

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25 (AP)—Baseball's loss is going to be Hollywood's gain, says Johnny Berardino. Miffed at being traded by the St. Louis Browns to Washington "without being notified," the 30-year-old infielder-turned-actor yesterday signed a seven-year contract with Richard K. Polimer Productions.

"Berardino sounds something like Valentino," the player asserted, "and Mr. Polimer thinks I have possibilities as a romantic lead."

He was offered the long-term pact on the strength of his performance as a trainer in a forthcoming racing picture. It will be a year-round proposition, leaving no time for baseball, Berardino added.

"When they start moving you around like a piece of furniture, it's time to get out," was Berardino's comment on the trade which sent Gerry Priddy and cash to St. Louis.

His recent role was hit first as an adult actor, but the dark, good-looking athlete says he's had previous acting experience with the Pasadena Playhouse in off seasons. He also had bits "as a kid" in Hal Roach comedies.

The "steady paycheck will more than make up" for loss of his status as a 10-year major leaguer, declared Berardino, who first came into the American League in 1939. He's been with the Browns since—except for four wartime seasons. He batted .265 last season.

In Washington, Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators, said he will ask Commissioner A. B. Chandler to investigate whether the Browns knew Berardino was going to quit baseball. If they did, Griffith asserted, he'll ask to have the deal cancelled. If they didn't, Griffith opined he's stuck.

No Objection to Negro Players

WINTER PARK, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP) — Official spokesmen for Rollins College said today the school has "no objections whatsoever" to playing in a football game in which a Negro player participates.

The assertion was included in a resolution by the executive committee of the college's board of trustees after a game scheduled with Ohio Wesleyan had been cancelled.

The game, scheduled for Friday, was called off "in the best interests of racial relations," the resolution continued.

The board said that leading residents of Winter Park, both white persons and Negroes, were consulted before college officials decided against the game.

At Delaware, O., acting President C. E. Ficken of Ohio Wesleyan said Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers and an alumnus of the school, sought to convince Rollins authorities it was feasible to play the game.

$75,000 For Study of Swamp Fever

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 25 (AP) —The University of Pennsylvania's school of veterinary medicine has received a $75,000 grant from the Grayson Foundation, Inc., for the study of swamp fever (equine infectious anemia).

The disease killed a number of race horses at various tracks the past year.

President George William McClelland, who announced the grant yesterday, said it would be divided into equal sums over a three-year period of study.

The Grayson Foundation was named in memory of the late turfman, Admiral Cary T. Grayson, U.S.M.

Illinois Votes Ike Owens Most aluable

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 25 (AP) — Uninversity of Illinois football players selected Ike Owens, all-Big Nine Conference end from Gary, Ind., as "most valuable player" for the 1947 season at their annual banquet last night. Guard erb Siegert of Pana, Ill., was elected captain of the 1948 team. Varsity football letters were awarded to 35 players.

KENNEDY'S

Indians Sign Ruel as Coach

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP)—Cleveland Indians President Bill Veeck today reported Herold (Muddy) Ruel, former St. Louis Browns manager, has agreed to sign a one-year coaching contract with the Tribe for 1948.

Veeck declined to name the salary terms of the contract, but said Ruel had agreed verbally to all clauses in a telephone conversation from Ruel's home in St. Louis. The ex-Brownie pilot will come to Cleveland for formal signing later, Veeck added.

Ruel's prinicpal duties with the Tribe will be assisting veteran Coach Bill McKechnie in handling the pitching staff, the Indians president said. Other members of the Tribe coaching corps include Oscar Melillo, George Susce and "traveling" pitching, coach Mel Harder.

"Baseball men always have considered Ruel a great handler of pitchers since he had such success in directing the Chicago White Sox' staff for manager Jimmy Dykes," Veeck said, adding, "I believe the Indians will be strengthened by signing Ruel, for he's one of the best coaches in the business."

Ruel was dismissed as St. Louis manager three weeks ago after a disastrous season which left the Browns mired in the American League cellar.

Boudreau to Put Whip On Indians, He Promises

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have retained shortstop Lou Boudreau as manager, which is what the fans of this baseball-minded city wanted.

The handsome Frenchman signed a two-year contract at a during a six-and-a-half-hour conference with Tribe President Bill Veeck in the stadium office yesterday.

Before Boudreau left for his home last night, he made it plain to sportswriters that if his hard work can give his loyal friends here a pennant-winning club, they can start anticipating the series.

"If the boys think we've been running a tough training camp in the past, they haven't seen anything," he declared. "We are going to work on fundamentals—and I mean work. We will have two sessions a day and see if we can't iron out some of the weaknesses we had last season."

Park Loop Grid Official Is Upheld

Three well known football officials today upheld the officiating of Field Judge John Daley at a Boston Park Department League football game won 46 to 0 by the Chippewas of Sath Boston, with the Scarlet and White, a Dorchester team, as opponents.

Bernie Kilroy coach at Boston English High School; Thomas J. Hines, Brookline athletic director, and Dan Kelly, well known gridiron official, all agreed that Daley had done everything possible when he discovered that his watch had stopped and called for another. They pointed out that the same thing often has happened in important college games.

This agreement came after Councilor William J. Keenan of Dorchester charged in the City Council chamber that the game had been prolonged.

In that game, the Chippewas needed 46 points to win the national division title, and the right to face the Roxbury Post, No. 44, American Legion, and they got just that many.

St. Lazarus of East Boston had already finished its season, unbeaten, and had scored 146 points but had 18 scored against them. The Chips had but six points against and thus they were chosen.

In his explanation, Keenan, who is demanding that the Park Dept. hire a "competent group of officials for 1948," added that one of the Scarlet and White players asked "how much time is left."

The official who Keenan did not name, answered "two minutes." A bit later this same player asked again "how much time now." The answer seven minutes.

JOHN WARNER SAYS:
"TAKE CARE OF YOUR HAIR"

This young man has a fine head of hair and he doesn't give it any attention. Yet, his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly and he loses a great deal of hair each day. Right now, a short period of the pleasant, low-cost scientific treatment used by John E. Warner and Associates would rid his scalp of dandruff, check the hair-fall and normalize his scalp.

A year later the hair has receded at the temples and our young man is worrying about it. He douses his head with cure-all lotions and his scalp's condition is growing worse.

Three years later, it is too late to have a good head of hair but not too late to improve the appearance of the hair that remains through prompt treatment by John E. Warner and Associates.

Four years later, it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap. Take care of your hair while you have it.

There is no charge for consultation or examination. Fees for treatment are moderate and are payable as the treatments are taken—not in advance. There is a separate department for women.

BC, Yale Place 3 on INS All-N. E. Team

By JAMES W. BAGLEY

Boston College and Yale dominated the International News Service All-New England eleven today after a survey of more than 27 universities and colleges in the six-state area.

Joe Diminick, the 19-year-old Boston College sophomore from Culpmont, Pa., elusive 155-pound left halfback and leading ground gainer for the Eagles was the choice of all. Not one of the coaches or experts consulted left little Joe off his first team.

FIRST TEAM

Art Spinney, BC, end.
Don Campbell, Brown, end.
Ernie Stautner, BC, tackle.
Irving Heller, BU, tackle.
Vic Frank, Yale, guard.
Emil Dvaric, Harvard, guard.
Geo. Schreck, Dartmouth, center.
Bob Furse, Yale, qb.
Joe Diminick, BC, lhb.
Veto Kissell, Holy Cross, rhb.
Fred Nadherny, Yale, fb.

SECOND TEAM

Halliday, Holy Cross, end.
Armstrong, Dartmouth, end.
Pchlick, Yale, tackle.
Houston, Harvard, tackle.
Deangelis, Brown, guard.
Papaleo, BC, guard.
Deffley, Holy Cross, center.
Finn, Brown, qb.
Sullivan, Dartmouth, lhb.
Moffie, Harvard, rhb.
Fuchs, Yale, fb.

HONORABLE MENTION

ENDS—Kelleher, Holy Cross; Hill, Harvard; Ring, Boston College; Spoor, Dartmouth.

TACKLES — Kissell, B. C.; Walters, Brown; Petroski, H. C.; Jenkins, Dartmouth; Hannegan, Dartmouth; Furey, B. C., McLellan, Parker, H. C.

CENTER — Kennedy, B. C.; Regine, Brown.

BACKS — Hatch, Boston U.; Kirk, Yale; Kozak, Brown; Fitkin, Dartmouth; Bob Sullivan, Holy Cross; Gannon, Harvard; Kenary, Harvard; Clasby, B. C.; Ed. Songin, B. C.; Poissant, B. C.; Bob Palladino, B. C.

TOPS POLL—Little Joe Diminick, the 19-year-old Boston College sophomore halfback from Culpmont, Pa., who is pacing the Eagles on yardage gained by running, was the only unanimous choice on the International News Service All-New England football team. Art Spinney, an end from Saugus, and Ernie Stautner, a guard, were the other Eagles to make the first team. Yale also placed three players, guard Vic Frank, quarterback Bob Furse and fullback Fred Nadhaerny.

Sooners to Ignore Bids Until After Final Game

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 25 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma will not consider any Bowl game bids or feelers until after its non-conference but traditionally tough game with Oklahoma A. & M. here Saturday.

The decision was taken last night by the Sooner football team, which voted in a secret ballot.

Brookline Can Clinch Title Also Set Class B Record

By MIKE GILLOOLY

A firm favorite to come through on top in its 51st meeting with Newton High School Thanksgiving morning, Coach Harry Downes' Brookline eleven could establish a new record in schoolboy circles by chalking up its third straight Class B football championship.

A victory for the Wealthy Towners would lift them beyond the reach of four clubs challenging for the crown.

Brookline has a 6-1-1 record for the season in a division that has failed to come through with an undefeated candidate for top honors. But the Downes' delegates will still have to win to head off Gloucester (facing Wakefield) and Saugus (tangling with Class A Peabody). Malden Catholic, among the top contenders, has closed out its campaigning with a 7-1-0 mark.

A similar situation will prevail in Class C as North Quincy attempts to put over a championship. Battling against bitter rival Quincy, the North club must win to retain its fractional edge over second place Durfee. Quincy's chances will be somewhat slimmer than Brookline's while Durfee, meeting New Bedford, appears well set up for another triumph.

Class D will remain a scramble to the final wire while Class A bunting has been safely tucked away—although that's not mentionable on the North Shore.

In past history, only Brockton High in Class A has ever won the crown three years running.

Medford High School authorities, abandoning the idea of shifting their game with Malden to Braves Field, may satisfy some of their followers who will be unable to attend Thanksgiving morning because of the shortage of accommodations . . . the game will be broadcast over WMEX by Frank Fallon and Bill Riley.

Boston Garden has released its complete basketball schedule, opening Dec. 9 with three games . . . on two occasions, there'll be six contests to a program . . . and for the first time in Garden history, girls will provide the action on the court as Ayer and Lunenberg High Schools clash, Jan. 30 . . . all told, there'll be 137 different teams participating in this overall campaigning.

And while on basketball, Durfee high of Fall River would like to fill out some Tuesdays on its schedule . . . faculty managers may contact Coach Luke Urban for meetings at home or away.

Nashua's Buzz Harvey, coach of the New Hampshire All Stars who'll play the Mass. All Stars in a charity game at Dover, N. H., Saturday, will have his 200-pound son on his squad . . . Harvey will be assisted by Tony Morandos, Nick Morris and Jay O'Connor—all Holy Cross grads who'll be missing the annual with B.C. at Braves Field that same afternoon.

Boston College High School's schedule certainly hit some rough spots for Coach Mal McLoud in his first year . . . the Eaglets meet Roxbury Memorial today at Fens Stadium in an "objective" game. . . . Thursday morning, Coach McLoud's squad will play Revere in another "objective" . . . two games; two days; too much.

Tribute

Newton's Mayor Paul M. Goddard (upper left) and Past Com. Edmund Dungan stand in silent tribute over the caskets containing Newton war heroes PFC Russell Colella and PFC George A. Lombardi while relatives and friends pass by the biers in the Hall of Flags, Newton City Hall. The bodies were escorted to the hall by veterans, civic and social organizations.

Snowtime
